Raise Prices On Top Beef

OTTAWA.—The board Saturday announced a retail price increase of five cents a pound on top grades of beef, effective March 3.

Prices on all other cuts other than red, blue and commercial grades remain unchanged.

The action of raising the price ceiling was taken, the board said, when it found a situation similar to that of early 1946 was beginning to recur. Prices for live cattle then were getting out of line with existing wholesale ceilings on dressed beef, and this resulted in reduced marketings and an acute shortage in nearly all large cities.

Following are actual retail price increases:

Cubed sirloin and tenderloin, unchanged.

Four cents on rib roast rolled, seven cents; prime rib roast, five cents; rolled rib roast, inside, sixth and seventh bones.

Three cents on ground increase on all other cuts.

The board said this was the final adjustment in beef ceiling prices for the current season.

The prices based on the move are intended to ensure a steady movement of cattle during the next few months, when marketings are usually light.

The increase was two cents a pound at wholesale carcass basis. The increase will permit cattle buyers to pay approximately 15 cents per pound for top quality cattle, basis the Toronto market.

Lifting of retail price ceilings on dressed beef probably will mean an advance of around one per cent, live.

Anglo-French Pact Pledges Aid in Event of Threat

LONDON, (Reuters).—The Anglo-French pact which will be signed at Quebec Tuesday meets the French desire for a guarantee of mutual aid not only in the case of armed attack by Germany but also in the case of a threat of armed aggression, short of an actual attack, it was stated in official quarters here Saturday.

Although the text of the treaty will not be published until it is laid before parliament, it is learned from sources here that the pact contains the following points:

1. It provides that either of the two parties shall come to the assistance of the other in the event of armed attack by Germany.

2. It contains arrangements designed for the event of any threat to the security of either party resulting from the adoption by Germany of a policy of aggression.

3. It is drafted with a view to the possibility that there will be concluded a four-power agreement for securing the disarmament of Germany on the broad lines envisaged by the former United States secretary of state, James F. Byrnes, and welcomed by Britain.

4. The treaty makes specific reference in its preamble to the Anglo-Soviet and Franco-Soviet alliances. It is stated also that it is carefully drafted so as to fit in with the charter of the United Nations.

5. It provides that any alliance hostile to, or aimed at, the other party, shall conclude such an alliance hostile to, or aimed at, the other party.

6. It contains a provision to meet the eventuality of any failure by Germany to carry out any economic obligation imposed upon her.

7. It provides in general terms for economic collaboration between Britain and France.

8. The treaty is for 50 years.

5,000 Bantu Pupils Hail King and Queen

LOVEDALE, ALICE, South Africa, (Reuters).—Their Majesties the King and Queen Saturday walked among 5,000 Bantu pupils and students drawn up on the sports ground to welcome them at the great missionary and educational institution here.

Dr. R. H. W. Shepherd, principal of Lovedale's native university, said "our natives have been waiting for this day for months, but never expected to talk informally with the King and Queen."

A massed choir of 5,000 drawn from all the native schools in the Cape native reserves sang native songs.

Council to Talk Enumeration Plan

To discuss a proposed change in the city's present system of enumeration of voters for the civic election, a special meeting of the city council has been called for Monday at 4:30 p.m., Mayor Ainslie announced Saturday.

The proposal for a change in the present system has been put to present Mayor Ainslie, and the Edmonton City Council has been asked to discuss the possibility of a compromise which observers said might lead to the league ending its boycott of the constituent assembly.

The meeting took on added significance following reliable reports that the leaders of India's chamber of princes had refused to enter the assembly unless the Moslem league also joined the body, now in recess.

To Discuss Prospect India Compromise

NEW DELHI, (AP).—Congress party and Moslem league leaders were scheduled to meet Saturday to discuss the possibility of a compromise which observers said might lead to the league ending its boycott of the constituent assembly.

The meeting took on added significance following reliable reports that the leaders of India's chamber of princes had refused to enter the assembly unless the Moslem league also joined the body, now in recess.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

MONTREAL, (CP).—Elm Paul Henri Laplante, 43, father of eight children, was arraigned before Judge Cloutier Friday and charged with the slaying of 23-year-old Madeleine Desnoyers, a Montreal newspaper.

Five Nazi Steel Kings Face Trial On War Crimes Charges

Here are five unwilling subjects—defendants in "Case Five" of the military tribunal—who have been indicted for war crimes and crimes against humanity on a wide scale. The indictment naming Friedrich Flick, left, active head of the combine which controlled the largest private iron and steel manufacturing enterprise in Germany, and four of his chief assistants, was handed down by the chief counsel for war crimes at Nuremberg, Germany. Their trial will open soon in the Palace of Justice. Left to right are Flick, Konrad Kaltsch, Otto Steinbrink, Hermann Terberger and Bernhard Weiss.

Feed Situation Worries Ranchers

CALGARY, (CP).—Kenneth Coppock, secretary of the Western Stock Growers' association, said here Friday night that cattlemen in southern Alberta are getting desperately worried about the feed situation.

He said that whether there will be much acute suffering will depend entirely on the weather in the next two months.

Most farmers and ranchers have had to fork hay almost constantly for the last four months. Others are using feed put aside for the spring, to fatten their animals for the market season before the new grass grows. That means the supply of fat cattle will be seriously reduced, and a large number of unfinished animals will have to be taken to market.

New Storms Hit U.K. Coal Hauling

LONDON, (AP).—New falls of snow and returning cold weather threatened coal transport anew Saturday on the heels of a government announcement Britain's industrial "blackout" would end Monday, after three weeks of factory shutdowns which caused unemployment for millions.

New snow blanketed most of the island and weather forecasters sounded gale warnings for all the east coast as Britain's coldest February in 92 years ended. There were only 17 hours of sunlight in the month.

By Basil Dean

LONDON.—All British industry will start up again Monday. Prime Minister Attlee, who earlier said the date for switching on industrial power in the London area and northern England, could not be decided for a while, suddenly changed his mind after consultations with his "crisis committee" and gave the go-ahead order.

The switch-on decision does not mean industry will be able to work full time. For at least two weeks, it can expect only a small fraction of normal coal shipments, and it is likely many plants which depended largely on coal supplies for heating and power will be kept down to three and four-day weekly working for some time.

The power still will be cut off for domestic uses, offices, non-industrial plants, movies and theatres for five hours each day. The Greyhound racing still is banned, and there will be practically no street lighting.

However, these restrictions constitute inconveniences rather than the wholesale disruption of the nation's economy which has been caused by the three-week shutdown of industrial plants. Restarting of industry means Britain has licked the coal crisis. It now remains to keep coal consumption down to a safe level by next winter.

There is one encouraging sign: manpower in the mines is going up steadily. It increased by nearly 3,000 men during February.

Sets New Record Continent Flight

NEW YORK, (AP).—Paul Mantz, flying non-stop in a single-engine P-51 Mustang fighter plane from Burbank, Calif., arrived over Le Grand, France, at 3:38 p.m. Friday, setting a new transcontinental speed record of five hours, 55 minutes and 49 seconds for propeller-driven aircraft.

Believe Poetry Found in Antarctic Left by Shackleton on Last Trip

NEW YORK, (CP).—Sketches of poetry from Robert Browning's "Prospect" provided an intriguing link Saturday between a 30-year-old message found in Antarctic wastes and an Irish-born explorer who may have written the lines sometime before his death in 1922.

Found in a corked copper tube corroded by exposure to polar elements, the message was believed to have been written by Sir Ernest Shackleton, remembered warmly by friends and colleagues here as a "lion among explorers" in the First World War.

All who knew Sir Ernest well agreed circumstances pointed to the "strong presumption" that the Antarctic expedition wrote the message which Rear Admiral Richard Cruikshank of the United States Navy's Antarctic expedition discovered last week at McMurdo Sound, near a camp site used by Capt. Robert Scott in 1910-12.

"From what I knew of Sir Ernest, I would say the writing almost certainly was his," Vilhjalmur Stefansson, noted Arctic explorer and historian, said.

He agreed with Kathleen Shackleton, youngest of Sir Ernest's eight sisters, who said in Toronto it would be "too much coincidence" for the message to have been written by anyone else. The explorer often quoted Browning and wore a locket with the inscription "Prospect."

Sir Ernest died on his third Antarctic expedition in 1922. His former associates later hope the mystery may be solved when the latest Antarctic expedition returns to the United States, permitting a comparison between the message and writings known to exist here.

Chinese Premier Soong Quits; Revamping of Cabinet Likely

NANKING, (AP).—China's supreme national defence council Saturday approved the resignation of Premier T. V. Soong and named Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek as premier to fill the vacancy.

Soong resigned dramatically Saturday, stirring speculation that Chiang might revamp his whole cabinet and bring in minority party members for the first time.

Soong, criticized by political foes for his handling of China's financial crisis, made his announcement before a critical legislative yuan (council) which had summoned him to defend his fiscal policies.

Before stepping aside, Soong declared the Communists, by destroying communications, were responsible for the chaotic state of China's economy.

Soong gave no reason for his resignation.

He told the legislative yuan that inflation went unchecked after the war with Japan because "the people of China plunged into a civil war cumulatively more exhausting than the war with Japan."

Soong's resignation threatened a general impression that even more fateful days were ahead for China. It came as surprise was subsiding over the government notice to Communists to get their delegates off government soil by Wednesday.

Shanghai observers reported a growing conviction that China's civil war was moving from a restricted to an unrestricted level with Chiang determined to crush the Communists.

NANKING, (AP).—The roar of battle echoed through Changchun's suburbs Friday as fast-acting Communist forces penetrated to within 10 miles of the Manchurian capital, government dispatches conceded.

Accounts from the field reaching Nanking declared government troops declared government troops slowed the drive by throwing planes from bases at Mukden into the struggle.

Gen. Lin Piao, Communist commander in chief, had ordered an estimated 250,000 men, supported by a sprinkling of tanks, into the offensive, aimed at Changchun from three directions.

LA PAZ, Bolivia, (AP).—Inhabitants of Trinidad in northern Bolivia who told of seeing crocodiles in the flooded streets, waited for rescue Saturday amid predictions that high water would cover all their city and destroy at least half of it.

Weather men said heavy rain in the Mamore and Iruvi river basins probably would send flood waters sweeping over the whole community of 10,000, which is surrounded by a sprinkling of tanks, into the offensive, aimed at Changchun from three directions.

National Assemblyman Rigoberto Siles reported that many buildings were falling before he left Trinidad last Monday.

Trinidad officials had called for flying boats to help in the rescue of 1,500 children. No deaths had been reported by Friday night. Number of persons forced to flee the city was not known. The government said, however, that the refugees faced the danger of attack by wild animals in the hills.

May Use Bombers To Divert Lava

ROME, (Reuters).—Use of bombers and artillery to alter the course of the lava pouring down the side of Mt. Etna, 10,758-foot volcano in eastern Sicily, from four craters was being considered Saturday. Authorities again declared a state of emergency in villages on its sides, the Rome newspaper Messaggero reported.

Expecting Premier Return March 10

By John Bird

OTTAWA.—Prime Minister King is expected to be back in his seat in the commons by March 10. From a source close to the prime minister this bureau learns that Mr. King definitely will not go south before the Easter recess, as had been suggested in some quarters.

Mr. King is reported making a fine recovery and is thought likely to return "as good as new," mentally and physically.

OTTAWA, (CP).—Prime Minister King, recuperating at Laurier House from a heavy cold, said Friday in a statement to the Canadian Press that he will be returning to his duties as leader of the government and the Liberal party "just as soon as that can be done."

Mr. King issued the statement through his office in response to questions based on reports that the illness which has confined him to his home for the last fortnight would lead to his retirement.

He said he had no thought of taking a vacation.

Mr. King said he was keeping in close touch with his office and with progress in the commons and was doing a considerable amount of work at home, where he has been able to be up and around for a few hours in recent days.

U.S. Bill Would Bar Portal Pay Suits

WASHINGTON, (AP).—Legislation setting up legal barriers against what is work time for which employers must pay under the wage-hour law, a court decision in the M. Clements Pottery case opened the way for workers to sue for pay time not actually in productive work.

The bill in effect overrules the supreme court interpretation of what is work time for which employers must pay under the wage-hour law. A court decision in the M. Clements Pottery case opened the way for workers to sue for pay time not actually in productive work.

Action came after numerous suits declared the wage-hour law unconstitutional. The bill is sponsored by the federal treasury itself.

PITTSBURGH, (AP).—The United Steelworkers (C.I.O.) Friday filed a $20,000,000 portal-potential suit against the American Steel and Wire Co. on behalf of employees in plants at Rankin and Donora, Pa., Joliet and North Chicago, Ill., and Trenton, N.J. Names of more than 5,000 employees were entered as claimants.

More Firms Enter Leduc Oil Area

At least five-quarter sections of land in the Leduc area have been acquired by independent companies for the drilling of oil wells, it was learned Saturday. Most of the land is close to Imperial Oil Limited Leduc No. 1 discovery well.

One independent oil operator, in association with Vancouver International, has purchased the "freehold" oil and gas rights of a quarter for at least $40,000 cash, plus the usual 12 1/2 percent royalty, it was reported. The bulk of the rights, however, in the particular area are held by Imperial Oil through crown leases.

Meanwhile, as excitement continued to run high in oil circles over the "strike" made at Leduc No. 1, where close to 300 barrels are being taken off daily under "choke tests," the government has taken a real-estate step.

Alberta Budget Due Next Week

Alberta's budget for the next fiscal year probably will be brought down in the legislature next week, it was learned Saturday.

The government hopes to submit the budget Thursday, or Friday at the latest, according to a spokesman.

On Monday, the debate on the speech from the throne will be resumed when the first speaker will be W. J. Williams, Veterans' member for Edmonton. Several other members will speak at the afternoon session.

If the debate is ended before Thursday, the budget will be brought down then by Premier Manning, who is provincial treasurer. Government members are confident that the debate will be over by Friday in any event.

Explosion and Fire Claim Third Life

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., (CP).—Explosion and fire which destroyed a frame house here Thursday night claimed its third victim when elderly Louis Arcand died.

He was the father of Mrs. Delma Gardipille, one of the other two victims. The third was Mrs. Gardipille's two-year-old son, Alex, Jr.

Still in serious condition in hospital were the husband, Alex, Gardipille, and their older son, 18-year-old Emilie.

The fire started when a gasoline lamp exploded.

Home Oil reportedly has obtained two separate holdings in the Leduc area.

Five major oil companies, Imperial, Shell, McColl-Frontenac, Gulf and Esso-Vacuum, in "Operation Muskeg," probably will start sinking wells in the Leduc area, it was learned Saturday. The companies are building a gravelled road from Enniskillen to the well site and a distance of 65 of the 69 miles has been completed.

Boring operations at Imperial's Leduc No. 2 is continuing at a fast pace, the depth at 8:00 a.m. Saturday being 3,109 feet.

License to drill Leduc No. 3 has been received from the government. The derrick and other materials and equipment have arrived in Leduc and Saturday were being shipped by truck to the well site, located one mile north and 1 1/2 miles east of No. 1.

$15,000 FIRE LOSS

WINNIPEG, (CP).—Damage estimated unofficially at $15,000 was caused early Saturday by fire which swept two industrial buildings here. The blaze broke out in the 201 Mark Industries building in downtown Winnipeg, then spread to the adjoining Crescent Electric machine works.

Chief, 18 Policemen Dismissed In Drastic Shakeup at Coast

VANCOUVER, (CP).—A drastic shakeup of the Vancouver police force stretching from the police chief to constables was completed here Friday night as this city moved to eradicate a rampant and vicious underworld.

Police Chief A. G. McNeil and 18 policemen received official notification of dismissal Friday night, only a few hours after a report by Lt. Col. C. H. Hill, newly-appointed police commissioner who has been inquiring into city vice conditions.

The three-man police commission charged that vice in many forms had been operating "wide open" in Vancouver for the last 10 years.

Dismissal of the men for "inefficiency and negligence in performance of their duties" was recommended by Col. Hill who said vice conditions had grown "to such an uncontrolled situation" that police have been openly defied.

JERUSALEM, (AP).—A terrific explosion wrecked a British officers' club in the heart of modern Jerusalem Saturday, and an official announcement said 15 persons were killed, 15 were injured and 24 were missing.

Three of the dead—two policemen and a civilian—were killed in bursts of gunfire between attackers and police.

While rescue parties clawed frantically through blackened debris, police and helmeted troops searched the Jewish agency building and Yeshurun synagogue—both across the street from the club—for the perpetrators of the Sabbath blast.

The area was cordoned, and traffic throughout Jerusalem was at a standstill.

Eye-witnesses said a number of armed men surrounded the club, on fashionable King George ave., a few moments before the blast, and exchanged gunfire with guards.

It was not immediately learned whether the bomb was carried into the building or hurled from a passing automobile.

An unofficial report said a group of men drove alongside the building under cover of the fire laid down by their companions, and threw explosives through a window into the hall.

Three attackers were believed to have been wounded and captured. A truck was found parked about 50 yards from the building, and officers said it might have been used by the attackers in hurling the bombs.

The death toll was greater than in any other incident in turbulent Palestine since last July.

Ottawa to Pay $6,300,000 To Protect Watershed Here

Under a 25-year agreement between the dominion and Alberta governments, federal authorities will contribute approximately $6,300,000 for capital expenditures on conservation of the watershed on the east slope of the Rocky Mountains, to protect the forest from fires and carry out other steps.

Hon. H. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines, announced word of federal approval of an agreement in a statement given at the opening of the legislature Friday afternoon.

The pact provides for the appointment of a three-member board to administer the agreement. Two members will be named by the dominion and the other by the province.

A similar announcement was made in the commons Friday afternoon by Hon. J. A. Glen, minister of mines and resources.

Mr. Tanner said the board will have full authority to outline the program and see it is carried into operation.

Legislation to implement the agreement will be introduced at the present session of the Alberta legislature and the house of commons. When this is done, the way will be cleared to appoint the board.

The dominion funds will be used for provision of trails, lookouts and other forestry work.

Also, the dominion would provide $250,000 to $300,000 for annual maintenance charges. The province undertakes, on its part, to pay one-half of these maintenance costs, up to a maximum of $125,000 a year.

The province will retain any revenue from the area, providing this does not exceed the $125,000 being paid by the province toward maintenance costs.

Work by Province

Work will be done by the province at the direction of the board and at cost. If the province feels it cannot do the work economically, or that it can be done better by contract, then tenders may be called and a contractor satisfactory to the board engaged.

Provision of a way is made that in case of disagreement, the board will pay the province what it considers should be the cost of the project. The accounts then may be submitted to arbitration and finally, if necessary, to the president of the exchequer court of Canada.

Mr. Tanner, expressing satisfaction on the agreement said the province has been trying for two or three years to reach an arrangement.

He said it had been established by experience in other countries that adequate provision for the conservation of watersheds could not be made by means of reforestation alone, which became ripe.

General effect of the pact will be given to the watershed will be given to the watershed will be given to the watershed.

Claim Underworld Has B.C. 'School'

VANCOUVER, (CP)—As police and the courts cracked down on Vancouver's rampant underworld Friday, there was a report, unconfirmed by officials, that a shooting school for criminals and an underworld arms depot were operating in this west coast port.

Friday said, there are stories of the underworld school, allegedly supplied by thefts from military and other establishments in Vancouver and district.

Meanwhile police continued to retrace the gun-blazed trail of a trio of young desperadoes in an effort to find the "tip-off" man whose report to headquarters frustrated a bank robbery but led to a pistol battle in which two policemen and a gunman were killed here Wednesday.

An alleged 30-year-old pal of Harry Medos, a gunman wounded in a fight with police, was held Friday as a material witness. Police claim the youth, called a close associate of both Medos, and Douglas Carter, the slain gunman, may have information on the planned holdup of the Renfrew street branch of the Royal Bank of Canada.

Medos and a companion, William Henderson, 17, captured after the shooting, stand charged with the murder of the policemen, Charles Boyes and George Ledingham.

In city police court, Magistrate H. S. Wood backed the police drive on the underworld by stipulating on each of two convicted holdup men.

Sentenced were Harold E. Tiller, 19, of Vancouver, and James Earl Brown, 21, no fixed address. The men, both seamen, were convicted of robbing a grocery of $183 Feb. 6.

'Fagin' Suspected

A mentally-twisted modern Fagin apparently is helping west coast youth along the road to "big-time" crime, the Daily Province said, continuing:

"It's said this person specializes in teaching young boys—15, 16, 17 and 18 years of age—to be expert gunmen.

"The story gains credence when one realizes that most recent major crimes in Vancouver, Burnaby and New Westminster have been staged by youths in their teens or early twenties.

"Raiders, even the youngest of them, handle guns with complete confidence and familiarity.

"Holdup victims have remarked on that fact, and they have described bandits as youths; many times the descriptions quote ages as '17 to 18'."

Large numbers of guns and supplies of ammunition have been stolen from military depots, from private citizens and from shops.

Frequency of armories burglaries has led military authorities in Vancouver to issue instructions that "attractive type" army stores be placed in quarters less accessible to thieves.

15 Persons Killed In Jerusalem Blast

building and for blocks around were broken by the blast.

Hastily organized military crews quickly began clawing into the rubble to extricate those who might have survived.

One person was killed and six injured in a bomb explosion on an upper floor of Barclay's bank Friday.

The Jerusalem blast came as nearly 1,400 unconfirmed Jewish immigrants waited off Haifa for a final court decision on their status, expected Tuesday.

The immigrants had been taken from the refugee ship Haim Arlosoroff. The passengers were taken Friday night aboard three British transports.

If the ruling, asked by the Jewish community council in Palestine's high court goes against them, they will be taken to detention camps on Cyprus aboard British troop transports to join thousands of other such refugees who have sought to run the blockade.

Meanwhile Haganah, Jewish defence body estimated to number 80,000, claimed it was the "underground movement" responsible for organizing Jewish illegal immigration from Europe to Palestine.

A pamphlet disclosed that Haganah had bought and manned the ships which are carrying immigrants to Palestine.

LONDON, (AP)—Government sources said Friday Britain is considering a Jewish Agency request to increase Jewish immigration to Palestine—pending a United Nations decision—under the present quota of 1,500 to 4,000 a month.

Ask for Blueprint U.S. Obligations

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Congress members of both parties called Saturday for a blueprint of the obligations involved before deciding whether the United States should take over British commitments in Greece.

Legislators who talked it over with President Truman and State Secretary Marshall at a Thursday White House conference remained uniformly silent, but other members said they want to know what the move will mean in terms of money and foreign policy.

Several said the issue is whether the United States intends to plunge further into Europe's turbulent political conflict between Communism and other forms of government.

President Truman Friday night pointed up the American desire for stability abroad, with a declaration that "it is essential to economic and political reconstruction overseas that a new food crisis be averted."

He said if the United States continues the present rate of shipments it will meet by the end of April an export quota of 400,000,000 bushels of grain and flour originally set for the end of June, Mr. Truman added "we must go beyond our program and continue to ship as much grain in May and June as we can, in the interest of world stability and freedom." Coal shipments also must continue, he said.

The fate of the Greek government, as well as the present regime in Turkey, appeared at stake in reports that Britain has informed the United States she no longer can bear the financial burden of maintaining troops and relief organizations in Greece and aiding the Turks militarily.

Asks B.C. Adopt Cocktail Lounges

VICTORIA, (CP)—British Columbia needs a properly conducted campaign to educate school children in the value and worth of sobriety, D. C. Brown (Coalition-Vancouver-Burrard) asserted in the legislature Friday.

Mr. Brown charged "if consumption is not curbed there is great danger it will undermine society in our province."

He called for a more open policy where enforcement of the law can be implemented without embarrassment to the public and suggested the government adopt the new liquor laws of Ontario, where cocktail lounges are permitted in five large cities and local option on plebeities in small centres. Prohibition was not the solution, he said.

French Jeep On Patrol In Far East

Armed with rifles and a machinegun, French troops patrol the streets of Hanoi, in French Indo-China in a jeep. They pass buildings set afire during the conflict with the Viet Nam forces. Dispatches from Indo-China said French marines, parachute troops and commandos used bazookas, mortars and grenades to drive Viet Nam forces out of a 300-yard sector of streets and barricaded houses in southern Hanoi.

Find No 'Secrets' At Churchill Base

CHURCHILL, Man., (CP)—Six foreign military attaches and 15 newspapermen of four countries made a broad if fleeting, eight-hour survey of this sub-zero joint services experimental base Friday and found no "secret weapons."

Their visit bared to them a military laboratory immersed in a Canadian and American investigation of the effects of the northland on the equipment and arms and men that helped win the Second World War.

Dr. Alan Woodcock of Ottawa, a physicist from the defence research board, said he thought he was on the right track towards a new type of clothing based on the old Eskimo knowledge that sweat is to be feared more than cold. Current clothing was "definitely unsatisfactory" because it wasn't warm enough for sustained exposure.

He has devised a loose, 23-pound suit geared to keep sweat evaporating as it would at lower temperatures. He has slept out in it all night at 12 below zero. It breaks away from the theory of more and more clothing and aims instead at ventilation.

Sgt. Ldr. Norman Grant of London, Ont., of the armaments section of No. 2 air command, said ground firing of three-inch rockets used by R.C.A.F. warcraft had indicated this climate slowed their flight by roughly doubling the period in which its propellant charge burned. They got the same distance but in longer time. The next step would be to try them on the Tempest fighter.

Canadian airmen here from the R.C.A.F. winter experimental station at Edmonton reported use of the highly-volatile naphtha gasoline had allowed planes to start immediately at all below zero, even after a night of exposure.

Red Cross Donations Total $200,000,000

WINNIPEG, (CP)—Total contributions by the Canadian people through the Canadian Red Cross society to the armed forces and for war relief totalled nearly $200,000,000 to date, Dr. Fred M. Routley, national commissioner, said here Saturday.

Overseas war relief is still being carried on, he said, and it couldn't possibly be concluded before the end of 1946.

Unions Criticize P.E.I. Premier

MONTREAL, (CP)—Spokesman for some Quebec and Maritime trade unions were on record Saturday with replies of "ridiculous" and "un-constitutional" to the statement of Premier Jones of Prince Edward Island, that "if we get our backs up we may pass a law outlawing all unions in this province."

Premier Jones said in proportion, more veterans had returned to the land in Prince Edward Island than in any other province. "You must forget about this eight-hour stuff," he told the Charlottetown branch of the Canadian Legion. "Let Nova Scotia have it; not here. If we get our backs up we may pass a law outlawing all unions in this province and we will not be defeated at the polls for doing it."

J. E. Beaudoin, president of the Quebec Federation of Labor, said "if such legislation is ever passed it will be unconstitutional."

Madelaine Parent, organizer for the United Textile Workers (A.F.L.) in Quebec, said, "Premier Jones expressed the desires and immediate interests of a dangerous section of Canadian industrialists."

"It is all the more reason why parliament should enact a labor code without delay, which will facilitate democratic collective bargaining and ensure stable industrial relations," said George Burt, Canadian director of the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.).

"Tell me, doctor..."

can an antiseptic be pleasant and at the same time a powerful germicide?"

The efficiency of a germicide does not depend upon an unpleasant smell, a deep staining colour or a poisonous nature. 'Dettol' is a powerful germicide, and yet it is non-poisonous. Indeed, you could, if need be, safely mix it and use it in the dark. A child could use it. 'Dettol' is a clean, clear fluid with an agreeable smell, and so pleasant to use that a great many people add it to their bath.

During the past several years the germicidal efficacy of 'Dettol' has been tested and proved by doctors, surgeons and obstetricians in Canada and the Empire in literally millions of cases, and to-day it is the chosen weapon of defence against infection in almost all Canadian maternity hospitals.

DETTOL
THE MODERN ANTISEPTIC

REGISTERED TRADE MARK (CANADA) LIMITED PHARMACEUTICAL DIVISION, MONTREAL

THE REASONS why 'Dettol' is now being used in more and more of the leading hospitals in Canada

1. 'Dettol' antiseptic is a ruthless killer of the germs that cause so many septic infections.
2. 'Dettol' is non-toxic—non-poisonous. (Important in homes where there are young children).
3. 'Dettol' is effective in the presence of blood and pus.
4. 'Dettol' is gentle and kind to human tissues.
5. 'Dettol' is safer to use than it could, in emergency, be used even in the dark.
6. 'Dettol' does not stain either linen or the skin.
7. 'Dettol' is deodorant, pleasant, agreeable, and admirably suited for use as feminine hygiene.

Do the hospitals do, keep 'Dettol' handy and use it promptly wherever infection threatens.

Wainwright Group Aids Men In Rehabilitation Problems

About 50 percent of the service-men who left Wainwright are back as civilians. In the office of P. M. Armishaw, lumberman and chairman of the town's rehabilitation council, are 338 files on veterans. He estimates that each file has been drawn at least once as assistance in some form has been given to the man or woman whose name is on the file.

Mr. Armishaw is a veteran of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry in the First Great War. In the Second Great War he undertook veterans' welfare work on a voluntary basis as a hobby in the same way in which other men take up woodworking, photography or bridge.

Also on Executive With him as executive members on the council are J. B. MacKenzie and R. A. Snyder. Wainwright citizens have worked with them to make the rehabilitation of the town's veterans as easy as possible.

On the main street of the town there are between 35 and 40 veterans employed. Some of them are in business for themselves and others work for Wainwright businessmen.

Wainwright, like other Alberta centres, has its seasonal unemployment. To combat this, Mr. Armishaw is on a constant lookout for temporary work such as may occur in the national park, on the road or for civilians with the army.

He first went to work for veterans in 1943 on welfare projects for troops stationed in the area. In 1945 his committee's energies were directed to rehabilitation.

Get Legion Grants Running expenses of the council were looked after by grants from the Canadian Legion, the town council and the municipality.

In all the work the council served as a liaison between veterans and the department of veterans affairs. In this connection, Mr. Armishaw has high praise for the cooperation given by D.V.A.

War brides were looked after by women in the town. They were given a welcome, parties held for them and showers tendered to help them set up housekeeping.

Mr. Armishaw believes the backbone of the rehabilitation problem has been broken, but the council can still provide a useful service. This will be in follow-up cases involving veterans and their dependents' welfare, pensions, help in obtaining employment for older veterans, and assistance in any problems that may arise in veterans coming under the Veterans Land act.

Put in Long Day Doing Good Deeds

BELLIS. — It was a long day for E. Tomashack, a salesman for a wholesale firm, but it is almost certain that when he rested his head on the pillow of his bed he slept soundly and contentedly.

There was much excitement crowded into the salesman's day. Twice he returned the runaway horses of K. I. Kovalek who was injured after the second time the horses bolted. He then drove the injured man to hospital.

On his way home after the trip to hospital Mr. Tomashack found a motorist stalled in his car on the highway. He was firmly entrenched in deep snow. The salesman drove to Bellis for a tow chain, returned and sent the motorist on his way after pulling the vehicle out of the snow with his own auto.

It was 3:00 a.m. when the salesman reached his own home—slightly tired after a day of good deeds.

War Relics Pack Canadian Museum

OTTAWA, (CP). — More than 100 curious brings hundreds of Canadian and foreign visitors daily to the one-room building next door to the public archives which houses the Canadian war museum.

Canada's former war workers come to take another look at the gun or airplane their plant turned out during the war. Veterans drop in to have a look at the "28-pounders" they handled, and the tanks they drove overseas. Engineers and technicians want to check on the mechanism of a particular type of war equipment.

Museum officials estimate 70,000 persons toured the museum in 1946, an increase of 20,000 over the previous year.

Opened during the First Great War, the museum now is packed with relics from both wars. There no longer is room to put them all on display, and hundreds of souvenirs, including one of the Canadian-made Bofors anti-aircraft guns, and one of the German V-3 rockets, have not yet been assembled.

The museum has collected accurate models of every piece of war equipment—from the smallest bomb to a B-29 bomber, complete even to engines—which was manufactured in Canada during the last war.

There also is a large display of war photographs of the First Great War. Lastly there are relics significant for what they once represented — everything from a brass canon, Paris-made, and believed to have been used in the shelling of Quebec in 1759, to a model of Hitler's chalet at Berchtesgaden.

Public service agencies in Cuba will get the first portwar trucks and motor cars.

The Red Cross Appeal

The appeal of the Canadian Red Cross Society for a total sum of $5,000,000 opens on Monday, March 3.
The quota of northern Alberta in this campaign is $200,000. Edmonton's share is $100,000. The other $100,000 will be subscribed by the smaller towns and country districts.
The people of this area, and of all areas, should regard contributions to this campaign, not as another social duty, but as a genuine social privilege. For the work of the Red Cross is the work of humanity. It is the organized functioning of the highest instincts in mankind, the orderly fulfillment of man's most noble impulses.
The human being is at his best when he is aiding his neighbor. His civilization reaches its highest peak when he is giving of his own strength to succor those who are unfortunate or weak.

It is impossible to define the work of the Red Cross. For the Red Cross steps in where others fail. Wherever misfortune strikes or where suffering falls upon humanity, there is this magnificent organization, pouring in its resources to alleviate pain and hunger and distress.

Canadians are accustomed to think of the Red Cross as a force that functions splendidly in times of war and marks time in the periods of peace.

This may have been true in the past. It is true no longer. For the Canadian Red Cross Society aims to turn those same forces of relief which operated so compassionately and successfully in war to the domestic life of Canada.

To this very excellent end it proposes to devote the $5,000,000 it is asking from the people of the Dominion.

Edmonton city and Edmonton district will surely respond generously to this appeal.

A Public Right

It is an elementary proposition that every motor car operating on public highways should be insured or bonded for an amount sufficient to pay hospital bills or other expenses resulting from an accident for which the operator is held to blame.
The public have a right to this measure of protection. It is inherent in the nature of things. Even handled carefully, an automobile is in degree a menace to pedestrians and to other vehicles wherever traffic is at all dense. Handled any less carefully, the menace is positive and very real. The "accident" record day by day establishes that point beyond any question.

But experience has shown that compulsory insurance plans do not always work well. In some instances, it is said, they have tended to make drivers reckless. It is good news therefore that care is being taken to avoid in Alberta the mistakes that were made in framing such plans in other provinces, and States.

That some compulsory measure should be adopted here is hardly open to doubt. There have been too many instances in which the person responsible for an accident was found to be unable to pay the damages. That absurd state of affairs has been tolerated too long. No person should get a driver's license unless he shows where the money is to come from to pay for injuries he may inflict upon the persons or property of other people.

Compulsion Not Needed

CCF members of the House of Commons want farmers compelled to market their coarse grain through the Wheat Board. In detail this would mean that a farmer could not sell a few bushels of oats or barley to the neighbor in the simple and direct way he now does. The transaction would have to go through all the procedural routine necessary to refer it to a board representative and get his sanction. Perhaps the grain would have to be hauled to the local marketing centre and back again to the farm alongside the field where it grew.

It is difficult to imagine the sponsors of compulsion would really want to carry their theory to that point. But it is also difficult to see where the line could be drawn between free selling and restricted selling. If the grower were allowed to sell directly to a neighbor a half-mile away, what about selling to one five miles away, or one hundred miles for that matter?

The Wheat Board exists mainly to market wheat outside Canada. That was the purpose for which it was created, and is the essential function it performs. The buying and selling at home could be done without any such agency, under legal provisions to assure the producer getting the full value of his wheat.

Coarse grains are mainly consumed in Canada, some as food for humans and some as feed for stock. To compel the buying and selling and delivery to be carried through under supervision and sanction of the export marketing agency would needlessly add to the expense and slow down the process of distribution. There are other, cheaper and less cumbersome, ways to protect the interests of both seller and buyer.

The Act is being changed so as to permit the Wheat Board to handle coarse grains, without compelling the farmer to give up his freedom to market his crops as he now does. That will put the board in position to promote sales abroad, if an export demand can be found, without subjecting the trade at home to the cost and inconvenience of an exclusive monopoly.

Turn About

Canada's defence forces are "at home" to military attaches of six foreign countries, and a contingent of newspapermen similarly international in character. The visitors were invited to attend the exercises at Churchill, where Canadian troops—and a small company of United States troops—are trying out some military equipment under winter conditions.

Russia, of course, is represented. In fact it is hardly a state secret that the show was staged for the special benefit of Moscow's temperamental newspapers. These have promised to suspect that something inimical to the safety of the Soviet Union and the peace of the world was going on in Canada's hinterland. So they were invited to come and see.

The Russian observers can hardly fail to be impressed at the spectacle. It is so different from the mass manoeuvres to which they are used to at home. The total personnel employed in the Churchill area is 682, including a company of engineers from the United States and the men who look after the cook camp and the house-keeping arrangements!

No doubt when they make their report these guests will suggest to Moscow that it play the host in return, and invite Canadian and other foreign military men to see how much and what kind of military training is going on in northern Russia and Siberia?

Expecting the Worst

U.S. army officials recently went over the thousand or more Jap prisoners held in Sugamo prison awaiting trial for war crimes. They found a rather choice assortment of things which the prisoners could use to commit suicide.

The officials naturally drew the inference that their charges had stocked up these implements with intent to commit hari-kari if the court should find them guilty. Accordingly they gathered in the potential suicide instruments.

The assortment confirms the inference. It includes cyanide poison of the Himmeler brand, ropes ingeniously made out of toilet paper, needles, buttons, pieces of glass, wires, scissors, spoons of thread, nails, pen points, pieces of pottery. Ex - Premier Tojo had wrapped himself in a long sash, suitable for use as a noose.

This richly varied collection suggests that the proprietors have not much hope of clearing themselves in court. That will not be because they are denied the opportunity. In Japan, as in Germany, supposed war criminals are given every chance that fairness demands to escape punishment unless proved to be guilty. Tojo and his pals evidently suspect that the evidence will convict them.

They accordingly planned to "save face" by doing away with themselves should the expected happen. That makes it important that the plans went wrong. The Japanese need to be taught that these men, if proved guilty, are punished as criminals. This salutary lesson would not be taught if those condemned were able to just step out of life in the way the Japanese associate with failure to perform a duty to the Emperor.

Man Cannot Save Himself

One of the cardinal purposes of Lent should be to prove to man that he cannot save himself, that he cannot obtain full spiritual stature except by the grace of God.

This is, or should be, the end of all Lenten contemplation. For neither the purpose of Lent nor the glory of Easter is fully accomplished unless a person comes to the conclusion, after meditating on his failures and shortcomings, that only God's mercy can make him the man he would wish to be.

Indeed, this final conviction of man's helplessness and of God's omnipotence is not only the essential fruit of Lenten self-examination, but of the very substance of the Christian Faith itself.

The salvation offered by our Lord on Calvary is in logical and inevitable sequence to all those centuries during which man, by all arts of religious experiment and philosophy, had sought to achieve spiritual peace.

At the time of the birth of Christ all those arts and efforts had broken down. The pagan religions had fallen into disrepute. The systems of philosophy had degenerated into so many intellectual games. Never was man so spiritually hopeless. Never was he so utterly without faith.

All the attempts of man to save himself had failed. And he knew it. Pagan civilization had examined itself, as one examines oneself during Lent, and had come to a dead end of helplessness.

And then the shadow of Calvary fell across the world—the shadow that was to illumine the lives of men.

Just as man learned in the pre-Christian era that it was beyond his power to save himself, so must man learn anew the same lesson in each Lent. Just ahead of the world two thousand years ago was the saving power of Christ. Just ahead of this Lenten season is the saving promise of Easter.

THE THRILL THAT COMES ONCE IN A LIFE-TIME - by Webster

Britain Frees India

BY ELMORE PHILPOTT

There is nothing at all in the history of modern imperialism as refreshing as the declaration by Britain giving India unconditional freedom by June, 1948.

In spite of the many previous moves in that direction there were deep suspicions both inside and outside of India, of Britain's intentions. Only a few weeks ago an international circled (and expensive) PHILPOTT news letter set forth facts and figures to imply that Britain had no intention of military withdrawal from India—and that the whole "independence" offer was phony.

THE NEW feature of the Attlee government's declaration is that Britain will not take sides for or against Pakistan—that is a split India. There is a strong hint that, failing agreement in the meantime between the two main communities, the legal powers of the government will be transferred by the British parliament to the Indian provinces—and not to a central authority.

This is just another way of saying that the two provinces where there is a Moslem majority will not be coerced into entering a United India. But as those two provinces are separated by more than 700 miles of territory which is overwhelmingly Hindu—and as the whole "Moslem" Punjab contains the whole Sikh people—there are strong inducements for the Moslems to enter a federated India.

The Sikhs are neither Moslem

nor Hindu in religion and are perhaps the most militant and virile of all the different peoples of India. They number several millions—and are overwhelmingly for Gandhi, Nehru and the Congress—and against Jinnah and his plan for splitting India by Pakistan.

GANDHI IS still the most influential personality in India—and for that matter probably the most influential person in the entire world. In his statement of February 15 he calls for "independent India of casteless, classless peoples living together in full cultural and religious freedom and in perfect friendship." He adds:

"In this India there will be no millionaires and no paupers." Any realist will smile at the above—for it is quite obvious that the hard-boiled Indian millionaires who are the chief financial supporters of the Congress are going to be harder to part from their millions than the British Socialists were to part from control over Indian affairs. Yet Gandhi has already achieved near miracles in quelling the communal outbreaks in eastern Bengal. The poor, of both religions, listen to him.

IN NEHRU'S RECENT book, "The Discovery of India," he makes it crystal clear that there is no mysticism or obscurity about his plan for India. He takes direct issue with Gandhi on some points. Here is the Congress Party plan for the first ten years of freedom:

1. Better feeding for everybody, based on a minimum of 2,400 calories per day.
2. Doubling clothing consumption—from 15 yards to 30 yards per person per year.
3. Improved housing—at least ten by ten feet of space per person.
4. Teaching entire population the rudiments of the three R's—reading, writing and arithmetic.
5. Provision of at least one medical unit for every 1,000 people.

By western standards the above aims seem pitifully low. Yet to fulfill them will require a double or triple increase of production within ten years. Nehru writes: "We calculate that a really progressive standard of living would necessitate an increase in the national wealth by 500 or 600 per cent. That was, however, too big a jump for us and we aimed at 200 to 300 per cent."

WHILE THE relationship between the Congress Party and the Jinnah-led Moslem League remains deadlocked, remarkable progress has been made in regard to representation in the Constituent Assembly for the so-called states ruled by the princes. On February 8 and 9, Mr. Nehru and the chancellor of the Chamber of Princes reached agreement for allocation of 93 seats to the states. One of these, Baroda, has already agreed to elect its allotted three delegates on the proportional vote system.

This is, of course, the fairest system yet devised by man to give fair representation to minorities as well as majorities.

Thus the whole picture in India is far brighter than could have been expected at this time.

The Moral Crisis

The crisis in which the world finds itself today—a crisis unparalleled in the history of the white race and western civilization—is a moral crisis. It is marked by the almost universal breakdown of morality and law. The war has not been won and it is impossible to make peace because the moral crisis, which we thought—culminated in the murderous regime of Adolf Hitler, has not been resolved.

We are in a state of progressive moral anarchy, and add to our confusion by calling progressive disintegration "progress."

In Nuremberg a Herr Sauckel was condemned and hanged because he brought foreign workers to Germany and impressed them into slave labor. Slave labor is labor performed against consent and without free contract.

In sentencing Herr Sauckel, the allies departed from a time-honored principal of western law, that a crime is not a crime unless it has been previously so defined in law. The moral justification for branding as a crime an act justified as "wartime necessity" and clearly not defined and subject to legal sanctions in international law was that it was, in fact, a crime before the conscience of mankind. The host of such justification is, however, that the prosecutors, as guardians of that conscience, should henceforth recognize it as crime—whenever and by whomsoever committed—subject to the same consequences and the same sanctions.

There is no law except that which its codifiers, prosecutors, and judges agree to live under themselves.

HOWEVER, ON THE day following the execution of Herr Sauckel, newspapers reported that Russia had repulsed German protests against the exportation of Germans for labor in Russia on the ground that "Germans had unconditionally surrendered and therefore had no voice in the matter." No "conscience of mankind" was involved. A certain American major in Munich, who directed a German paper, had previously expressed a similar opinion regarding the forced deportations of Germans from the east. Since then a Soviet newspaper in Leningrad has stated that 5,000,000 prisoners of war are being retained in Siberia for labor on railroads, in mines, and on public works projects.

The Soviet Union is not the only country who thus, nearly two years after the end of hostilities, is employing what was defined at Nuremberg as slave labor. The Soviet Union was never a signatory to the Geneva Convention respecting prisoners of war. But the United States and France were. The U. S. held to that convention during the war, when American prisoners of war, were in the hands of the Germans. But when our own and French prisoners were released, so that there was no possibility of reprisals, the U. S. turned over German prisoners of war to France. That country, thereafter, with our consent and connivance, has been employing them ever since as slave labor under the same definition of slave labor as that used against Herr Sauckel in Nuremberg.

THE GENERAL attitude of the public in allied countries is that "it serves the Germans right." Few care to recall that President Roosevelt, in his foreign policy speech of September 1944, gave a specific pledge to the German people: "The Allies do not traffic in human slavery."

Whoever raises his voice today in behalf of the application of the new Nuremberg law to all, including ourselves, is promptly castigated as pro-German.

But do only a handful of people see that we are therewith deepening the moral anarchy which is developing into physical anarchy?

Do only a handful of people achieve universal peace unless we can put universal foundations under our political life?

Do only a handful of people

Govt. Subsidization

By HARPER PROWSE M.L.A.

Slowly but surely the government is moving towards the one inevitable solution to the problem of proving low-rental accommodation for those in the low-income brackets. The inevitable solution, of course, is government subsidization. In spite of the opposition which has been put up to this the government has been driven closer and closer to it and already is actually providing it.

The houses built for sale under the VLA small holding provisions are subsidized to the extent of about 23 per cent. This is offset in most of the houses that have been sold by the fact that the veteran surrenders his re-establishment credit. As practically the only veterans to receive homes under this plan to date have been men with lengthy overseas service the $1,200 to $1,400 write-off they have received has been off-set by re-establishment credits running between $800 and $1,000—so the actual write-off carried by the government is smaller than would at first appear.

WARTIME housing will also probably cost the government considerably more than they get out of it in most cases, and as the surplus of cost over return will have to be born by the government, this too is subsidization.

The latest action of the government in providing for "double depreciation" on homes built for rent is a kind of negative form of subsidization which is perhaps not as immediately obvious as the write-off provided by the VLA—but it is subsidization, none the less.

This policy permits owners of homes built for rent to charge against their income-tax calculations double the amount they would normally be permitted for "wear and tear." This means they will pay less income tax and therefore retain more of their income from rents. It seems obvious that this is nothing but a thinly-disguised subsidization plan. As far as the government is concerned it makes no difference whether they don't collect the money, or whether they pay out money they have collected. Their net balance remains exactly the same.

THE ONE objection to this is that this is to apply to units which are built to rent at less than $70 per month. The objection is that there is bound to be an attempt on the part of builders to "cash in" on that $70 maximum rental and it is probable that this will tend to become both the maximum and minimum rental under this scheme. Now $70 rentals are for people whose incomes will run between $250 and $300 per month according to our best economists. But these people do not need subsidization from the government. The people who need subsidization are the "little people" who must get homes for $25 per month or less. The sooner we start to do something for them the better it will be for everyone.

Manpower Shortage

By F. B. WALKER

London: The fuel crisis, with its critical threat to Britain's industrial recovery, has focused attention again upon her manpower shortage. It is pointed out that a few more miners or a higher output by existing miners would have prevented the crisis. The British problem is how to get either. Of all the problems confronting the government, the problem of where to get sufficient hands to rebuild British economy is the most vital. Yet it is one about which very little has been done apart from exhortation.

With three important exceptions—dockyard workers, some building trades and agriculture—British labor is free to move where it pleases. Labor has quite naturally flowed into the more comfortable and higher paid jobs, leaving the less comfortable and lower paid, but important industries, seriously short of manpower.

NEITHER the government, nor labor nor any responsible public figure has suggested that there should be national direction of labor. This would smack too much of a totalitarian state, but what has been suggested is something more subtle and as effective. This is to ration the supply of raw materials to the industry in such a way as to cut employment in the less important industries and so divert it where it is most needed in the national interest.

But there are big difficulties in such a scheme. It is often impossible to discriminate between essential and non-essential industry. Much of Britain's light industry, for example, is situated in the London area and it would not help to cut employment here when the housing situation in the areas of heavy industry could not absorb the extra workers.

This is only one possible solution at present being discussed. Another involves the British foreign policy and Britain's overseas commitments. A white paper on defence issued last week estimated the requirements of the armed forces up to March 1948, as 1,087,000. Now it is asked, whether in view of Britain's manpower situation, the country can afford to absorb such a large number of unproductive employment. The government considers it cannot reduce this total without jeopardizing Britain's security or falling down on her commitments. So there this suggestion rests.

BUT THERE are others. There is the question of large scale importation of foreign labor. Both the Trades Union Congress and the head offices of several important unions have agreed to the use of foreign labor in principle, but all have stipulated that the consent of local branches of the union must be obtained before any of these workers are placed.

This local approval has been difficult to obtain and to date

See Lost Dignity
In 'Personnel' Use
LONDON, (AP) — The August
Times of London, esteemed by all Britons as their brightest guardian of the English language, has turned its editorial wrath on the word
"personnel."

The French-derived synonym
"should be classed as vermin... a pest to be eliminated," the often dry-witted paper declared, with perhaps tongue-in-cheek solemnity.

"It is possible, just possible, that a more degrading, a more ill-favored, synonym for two or more members of the human race has at one time or another been coined," the Times observed.

"But if it has, it has never gained the ubiquitous and tyrannical currency of this alien collective. Personnel, though in theory they are men and women, have only to be called personnel to lose their full status as human beings."

"They do not go, they proceed.
They do not have, they are (or more often are not) in possession. They do not ask, they make application for."

"They cannot eat, they can only consume, they perform ablutions;
instead of homes they have places of residence in which, instead of living they are domiciled. They are not cattle, they are not ciphers, they certainly are not human beings; they are personnel."

MAGNA CHARTA GOES HOME
England has got back its Magna Charter — Lincoln cathedral's copy which had been in America for seven years since the precious document was lent to the United States in 1939 for exhibition at New York's World Fair. It was not returned at once, because of war hazards. Commenting on its return, London's Punch said: "The Magna Charta is coming back.
There is no intention, of course, of putting it into effect."

"Why should we go back to the lower standard of an agricultural country by rejoining Eire?" asked Sir Ronald Nugent, Northern Ireland's Minister of Commerce in Belfast.

Coal Shortage Hits Russian Industry

LONDON, (AP) — The Soviet
council of ministers (cabinet) said
Saturday that a lag in Russian coal production was delaying Russia's whole economic development under the current five-year plan.

The council listed economic "shortcomings" for 1946 in a decree broadcast by the Moscow radio to regional listening posts for publication throughout Russia. The Soviet monitor picked up the broadcast here.

"The coal industry... experiencing the greatest difficulties as a result of the consequences of the war, is lagging behind, thus holding up the development of other branches of heavy industry, railway transport and the whole national economy," said the monitor's abstract of the decree.

Only Friday the Communist party's central committee in Moscow, urging a drive for more bread, indicated that Soviet grain production was so far below the pre-war level that at least three years would be needed to regain that level.

Saturday evening the young people will hold a "Dopatch" costume party at 8:00 p.m. in the Y.W.C.A. and Sunday a service will be held at 7:30 p.m. in Central United church conducted by Mr. Morgan, assisted by Jack Pritchard and Miss Miller.

Those in charge of conference arrangements are: William Denny,
Mr. Bell, Mr. Pritchard, Miss Miller,

Ask Top Priority For Aid to Europe

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., (AP) —
Great Britain called upon the United Nations economic and social council Friday to give top priority to creation of a permanent economic commission which would help the war-ravaged nations of Europe get back on their feet.

Hector McNeil, British minister of state, said that in his opinion this was the most important issue before the council, as it opened its fourth session with more than 30 items on its agenda.

Early in the meeting McNeil challenged what he said appeared to be a "policy" of the council, asserted McNeil that any limitations are going to be placed upon the work of this council.

Indian delegate Sir Ramaswami
Madhavan, who was re-elected president of the council, assured McNeil that the council is not going to leave aside any important work that it has to undertake merely on the ground of finances.

30-day racing season, and approximately 700 horses were stabled in the area of the fire. Some horses were led to safety. Others broke

TODAY'S MESSAGE

The Folly of Judas

When Mary of Bethany anointed the feet of Christ with precious ointment, one of the Twelve complained that this was sheer waste since the ointment could have been sold for three hundred pence. This man was Judas. He was the wording—the lover of money—who was later to betray Christ for thirty pieces of silver.

There was a time when Judas was wholly loyal to Christ. When the Master displayed His miraculous powers by feeding the multitude, walking upon the water, healing the blind and lame, Judas, like the others, rejoiced. But when Christ refused to become a king, discontent stirred his soul. When the Galilean exhortated the seekers of wealth and power, the faith of Judas turned to disappointment and resentment.

The story of Judas is a terrible warning to those who would try to follow Christ without renouncing the lure of unworthy ambitions and desires.

Judas had thought to "cash in" on his intimate association with the Savior. He was careful to mask his hypocrisy, to hide his growing disbelief. Judas might have taken warning when Christ predicted His final betrayal at his hands but avarice had taken possession of his soul. Already he had made his bargain with the enemies of Christ.

In an hour of weakness and fear, Peter also sinned against the Master by thrice denying Him. But Peter found redemption in his genuine and deep love for the Friend who had called him to be the first among His followers. Peter's faith saved him and brought him at length to the glory of martyrdom.

Judas, laughed at by men he had sought to serve, and distracted by the enormity of his folly, turned to despair and so committed his ultimate and greatest sin. Even from the Cross, Christ would have pardoned his worldly betrayer, had there been faith in him enough to utter one prayer for forgiveness. By hanging himself, Judas merely surrendered to the tragic compulsion of his unbelief.

GEMS FROM SWEDENBORG:

"Those who love truth for its own sake and for the sake of a life in accordance with it—consequently for the sake of the Lord's Kingdom, study the Word with this motive alone and arrive from it their faith and their conscience. If they are told that they must remain in the doctrines of the Church in which they were born, they reflect that, if they had been brought up in any heresy or even outside the Church altogether the same admonition would have been given them; for it is the general cry—"Here is the Church, here are truths and nowhere else!" And this being so, they conclude that the Word ought to be studied with devout prayer to the Lord for enlightenment. Such persons do not disturb anyone else in the Church and never condemn those who believe otherwise than they know, believing otherwise than they know, believing that everyone who is in a Church lives from his own faith."

Annual Meeting on Tuesday Missionary Films Shown In Bible Society Work

By HELEN FERRIS

Showing 'missionary films with the aid of a generator in rural areas where there is no electric power, is an interesting method employed by the Rev. E. J. Heuer to promote the work of the British and Foreign Bible Society in Alberta. The annual meeting of the society's North Alberta auxiliary will be held in First Baptist Church Tuesday at 8 p.m.

SINCE BECOMING secretary of this district in August, 1944 when the Rev. H. O. T. Burkwall retired, Mr. Heuer has met his responsibilities with enthusiasm and energy.

Continuing the fine work begun by the Rev. J. K. Smith several years ago, he visits city Sunday schools during January and February when country driving is treacherous. He usually calls at three schools each Sunday morning, through previous arrangements with the teachers, and visits a young people's society in the evening.

Using flannelboards to illustrate his story, Mr. Heuer tells the children about the Bible Society's work in a way that they can understand and enjoy. For instance, a man telephoned him recently to say that after his small son's class had been visited, the lad brought home a contribution envelope and asked for $100 to put in it!

ALL SUPPORTERS are not as ambitious as this one, of course, but the Sunday schools do provide substantial aid to the society.

As soon as roads are fit for travelling in the spring, and right through to fall, Mr. Heuer visits rural areas at the invitation of BFBS branches and ministers, or in his own itinerary planned in consultation with them 6-8 weeks in advance. People in the country where there is no electric power are very appreciative of moving pictures, he told us. With the aid of a generator borrowed from W. R. Abell, and installed in the trunk of his car, he can connect the movie projector anywhere and show the same films as in the city.

Afternoon meetings are as well attended as evening sessions. Film supply, to give a varied program, is his problem at the moment. He uses two missionary films chiefly, with supplementary talks. In the past year, with Mr. Burkwall's help, he visited 179 of the society's branches.

THE NORTH ALBERTA Auxiliary of the BFBS consists of the northern part of the province, whose southern boundary runs east and west through Ponoka and Hardisty. Within this auxiliary there are 284 branches in cities, towns and rural areas, which conduct annual canvasses for funds to support the world-wide work of the society. The work is supported by individual contributions.

This auxiliary is one of 15 in Canada, all of which do a similar work and forward contributions to Toronto, where the central office remits to London, England. In 1946 this district forwarded $20,127.60, of which $1,890 was sent from the Edmonton depot alone, though contributions were slightly

Robert D. Dickie To Preach Twice

Robert D. Dickie, candidate for the ministry of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, will preach both morning and evening Sunday morning in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. He will contrast his present experiences in college halls with those of not so long ago when, as an anti-tank officer of the Royal Hamilton Light Infantry, his outfit repelled German Tiger and Panther tanks by point-blank fire in Holland just before the Rhine crossing.

THIS YOUNG MAN who is in much demand as a supply preacher, and is becoming a very popular speaker, is majoring in psychology at the University of Alberta.

His home town is Preston, Ont., but he enlisted from Edmonton and has elected to pursue his post-war studies for the Christian ministry in this city.

His regiment had the honor of two "firsts" while overseas. They entered first into Groningen, Holland, and first into Oldenburg, Germany—both places of permanent interest to Canadian troops. Mr. Dickie will speak Sunday morning on the subject of "The growth of conscience."

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION
Weekday religious instruction in New Brunswick was urged by C. H. Blakeny, minister of education, who told a three-day conference of country and city school superintendents that provisions should be made for such instruction outside regular school hours. He suggested that plans be worked out in co-operation with the churches.

less last year than previously. The prime purpose of the BFBS is to place the scriptures in the hands of missionaries and persons who have no bibles. Toward this end, it circulates the scriptures (Bibles, New Testaments, and Portions) in 764 languages. This auxiliary alone distributed the Scriptures in 34 languages last year, with a total circulation of 8,625 copies.

IN 1946 ALSO, during 11 months of service, collectors of the northern district sold 612 copies, made 76 free grants and 2,983 visits. In another article soon, we hope to tell you something of the world-wide work of the British and Foreign Bible Society, and the gripping story of Bible societies in Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Finland, Poland, France, Norway and the Netherlands who tried to continue printing and circulation of the scriptures during their terrible war years.

Missionary Union Head to Speak

Dr. Christian Weiss, President of the Gospel Missionary Union and former missionary in the land of Morocco will speak Sunday morning in the Beulah Tabernacle on the subject, "The Rise of Paganism."

In the Sunday evening service in the Memorial Hall at 7:30 he will appear in the costume worn in the land of Morocco.

He will speak briefly and follow him the Rev. J. D. Carlson will conclude his sermon "What is Wrong with the Movies?" Tuesday evening Dr. Weiss will show pictures of the missionary work of the Gospel Missionary Union. This service will be in the Tabernacle.

Plan New Phase
Of Christ Crusade

The Methodist Church of America will officially inaugurate a stewardship emphasis program early in January as the third phase of its four-year Crusade for Christ. Defining Christian stewardship as "an overwhelming sense of responsibility for the Christian well-being of the world," the denomination has set forth seven issues which the campaign raises and will seek to develop.

"1. Responsibility for preserving the place, value and dignity of the individual person in the increasing pressure of various forms of statism now manifesting itself throughout the world."
"2. Responsibility for atomic energy for the common welfare and not for war."

"3. RESPONSIBILITY for the conservation of the personalities of children and youth for Christian citizenship."

"4. Responsibility of both management and labor to the community for the economic welfare of the people."

"5. Responsibility for good government in a democracy."

"6. Responsibility for the conservation of the soil and natural resources for the future well-being of the nation."

"7. Responsibility for the peace and security of the world by taking our place as a nation in the United Nations organization, particularly as related to the welfare of the dependent peoples of the world."

To Stay Young, Doctor Says Grow Your Own Vegetables

Want to stay young and beautiful, people aged quickly and expectation of life at birth was extremely low.

Dr. Frank G. Boudreau, chairman of the Food and Nutrition Board, National Research Council, told the National Garden Conference, that growing a home vegetable garden and eating the vegetables would do more to accomplish this for the women of America "than all the beauty shops."

He stressed the fact that this was strictly a modern idea, the result of discoveries by science which had astonished the nutrition experts.

"I was a great surprise to discover the remarkable dietary qualities of the leaves of plants," he said.

"They constitute complete foods, rich in actively functioning cells, which contain everything necessary for the metabolic process. They supply all the nutrient which an animal requires. The liberal use of the protective foods, among which vegetables and fruits rank high, tends to preserve the characteristics of youth. The larger the percentage of calories taken in the form of protective foods, the smaller the percentage of failure in the preservation of the characteristics of youth, and the greater the extension of the prime of life."

"There was a time in this country when the produce of home gardens was not appreciated," he said. "During the first half of the nineteenth century farmers were indifferent to green vegetable. Presidential candidate Van Buren was attacked for using public funds to raise strawberries and raspberries, cauliflower and celery for his table. Infant mortality was

HAROLD DEAN, Sports Editor

TWO GOALS IN TWO GAMES On the same night do not represent any surplus scoring punch, but the pair of tallies is the net result of the efforts of Flyers and Canadians, Edmonton's two teams which were in action Friday night.

It's the end of the road for this season so far as the Canadians are concerned, but Flyers, of course, have a league engagement to fulfill before embarking on the more serious playoff venture.

These two teams represent Edmonton's bid in senior and junior hockey. This city, however, also has New Method in the Alberta intermediate "A" final, with the Maple Leafs still very much alive in the juvenile division and EAC's in the mid-level section. In addition, the winner of tonight's Canadians-South Side junior "B" game goes into the Alberta final of that group.

Flyers must meet Lethbridge Maple Leafs in the senior semi-finals with the survivor engaging the winners of the Calgary-Saskatoon series for the right to proceed in the Western Allan Cup playdowns.

Stopped After 10 Years

LAST NIGHT'S DEFEAT OF Canadians at Lethbridge terminated Edmonton's reign in junior hockey for Alberta after an uninterrupted stretch of 10 years. The last Southern Alberta club to win out in provincial junior competition was Calgary in 1936.

Edmonton Canadians and EAC had taken the title the two years previous, but prior to that the south had dominated for 13 years in a row, Calgary winning out 11 times and Blairmore twice.

Canadians have held the title for four years in a row and Lethbridge Native Sons, the new champions, hold a four to three edge over Canadians for the entire season, each team winning all home ice games.

Were Canadians Short-changed?

TRAIL JUNIORS, THE NEW BRITISH COLUMBIA champions who meet Lethbridge Native Sons in the next round of the Western Memorial Cup playdowns, reached there after eliminating New Westminster in a five-game series with the fifth game on neutral ice.

On the other hand, the defeat of Edmonton's contender is not the only unusual feature of this season's junior playoffs. An entirely new method seems to have been adopted in Alberta this year, with Edmonton obviously getting the short end of the deal.

The fact the head man of the Lethbridge Native Sons happens to be an official of the AHA may not have anything to do with the awarding of the fifth and deciding game to Lethbridge instead of having it played on neutral ice, but it does look rather significant.

Ed Bruchet, manager of Native Sons was 1945-46 president of the Alberta Hockey Association and he was then, and still is, manager of Native Sons. He still is a member of the AHA executive, and in addition is a member of the playoff committee.

Junior "B" Final Tonight

FINAL GAME OF THE CITY JUNIOR "B" series between Canadians and South Side will be played at Varsity rink tonight commencing at 8 o'clock.

The two top teams in the junior B circuit all season have played two games in the league final, each winning one by a single goal margin.

Tonight's winner will meet Blairmore for the provincial title, the mining town having taken the South Alberta championship.

Aging Gus Lesnevitch Stops Young Bill Fox

NEW YORK, Mar. 1 (AP)—Old Gus Lesnevitch, the aged brawler who said didn't have a chance, held on to his world light heavyweight championship Friday night by knocking out fresh young Billy Fox, the knock-out specialist in 10 rounds before a near sellout crowd in Madison Square Garden. Lesnevitch weighed 174½; Fox 172.

Blonde Gus, one-sided underdog in the betting against the tan terror from Philadelphia who had run up a record string of 43 straight knockouts in his undefeated career, punched the ears off Billy Fox virtually all the way and then put him away with a ripping, crushing barrage at two minutes 19 seconds of the tenth.

ALL THE WAY it was the old story of just too much experience as the 30-year-old king of the 175-pounders pulled all the tricks in the bag from his 12 years of ring experience and made the Philadelphia flatter fight from start to finish.

And at the end, a crowd of 15,318 customers, who contributed to a gross gate of $102,520, were cheering to the rafters for the victory of the white Russian wallop from Cliffside, N. J., who was making his first title defence in this country in six years, after spending four years in the coast guard.

THE END WASN'T altogether unexpected, once Gus switched from his easy, canny ringmanship to a charging, tearing aggressiveness in the eighth. Through the ninth, he beat a loud bass drum on Fox with both hands.

In the tenth a right staggered Billy. He feared fists had no more power as he waved a harmless left at Gus. Two jabs and a hook slowed him to a walk. Then a right cross tore over and Fox went down on his back, his arms outstretched, until referee Johnny Byrne's count reached "four." At six he was on one knee. At eight he reached his feet, but he was helpless, wobbling, his eyes vacant and his hands at his sides.

Gus leaped across the ring to put over the clincher. Byrne spotting Fox's helplessness, jumped in to stop the proceedings.

Trail Smokies

Stop Kimberley

TRAIL, B.C., March 1 (CP)—Trail Smoke Eaters nipped the Kimberley Dynamiters lengthy winning streak here Friday night and assured themselves of third place in the Western International Hockey League standing as they withstood a last minute dynamite barrage to emerge on top with a score of 3-2. It was the last league game for Trail.

Jackie Nash, Kimberley goalie, was taken out of his net in the last 16 seconds of play, but his team was unable to score the tying goal.

Bears Down Huskies To Cop Hockey Title

SASKATOON, Mar. 1 (CP)—University of Alberta Friday night won the Western intercollegiate hockey championship, defeating University of Saskatchewan 6-2 here. Although the Golden Bears play here again today and in Winnipeg Monday neither Saskatchewan nor University of Manitoba have any chance of overtaking them.

Bus Younger led Golden Bears in their title-winning game with two goals and one assist. Bill Dimock also scored twice, while Eric MacDonald and Jim Cameron tallied the other Alberta goals.

GEORGE PARKER and Rags Johnson were Saskatoon marksmen. Bill Dockery, Calgary boy playing with University of Alberta, put in a wild night. He was in two first fights and drew a pair of major penalties. He first tangled with Vern Wildfong, Huskies goalie, and later with Ray Kennedy.

COACHES CHAMPS: Andrew "Shorts" Purcell appears quite satisfied with things in general—and well he should be. His University of Alberta Golden Bears walked off with the Western intercollegiate hockey championship last night when they downed Saskatchewan Huskies 6-2. Last night's victory was sufficient to give the Bears the championship. Previously they had defeated both Manitoba and Saskatchewan clubs twice.

Both are likely to go to the post the favorite in the respective events.

Faultless, son of Bill Lea, has two firsts and a second to show for three tries at the Hialeah meet, which concludes Tuesday.

His strongest opposition is expected to come from Mrs. M. E. (Liz) Whitely's Bullet Proof, Circle M. Ranch's Riskolater, and Greenwood Stable's Wide Wing.

Break Even
Edmonton Maple Leaf "B" midgets broke even in a recent series with Edmonton. Edson took the first contest 4-2, but Edmonton came back strong in the second to chalk up a 6-1 victory.

Dodger Pitchers Start Out Well
HAVANA, Cuba, March 1 (AP)—Veterans Hal Gregg, Vic Lombardi and Kirby Higbe blanked Boston Braves 8-0 last night on three hits as Brooklyn Dodgers hammered three Brave tossers for nine blows.

The game, opener of a three game series, also was the first game of the spring training season that involved two major league teams.

Trail Smokies
Trail Smoke Eaters nipped the Kimberley Dynamiters lengthy winning streak here Friday night and assured themselves of third place in the Western International Hockey League standing as they withstood a last minute dynamite barrage to emerge on top with a score of 3-2. It was the last league game for Trail.

Jackie Nash, Kimberley goalie, was taken out of his net in the last 16 seconds of play, but his team was unable to score the tying goal.

Hialeah Officials Suspend Atkinson

MIAMI, Fla., March 1 (AP)—Toronto-born Ted Atkinson, leading United States jockey in 1945, was ruled off Hialeah race track for the balance of the meeting by track stewards on charges that he bumped jockey Robert McPhee in the last race Friday.

Track officials said Atkinson finished first aboard A. Masimiano's Night Porter, but was disqualified and G. Weber's Able Marine awarded the victory. McPhee was riding Deerhead Stable's Hard Facts.

It was believed Atkinson would be able to fulfill his stake engagement today. He is to ride Wing in the $50,000 added Flamingo stakes.

The Hialeah meeting ends March 5.

Flyers Upset Cubs In Pee Wee Playoff

Flyers qualified to meet McGregor Products in the final of the Maple Leaf League Pee Wee hockey playoffs last night when they upset the Army and Navy Cubs 2-0.

THE CUBS, who finished on top of the league standing, took the first game of the two-game, total-point series 2-1, but lost the round 3-2. Flyers finished fourth in the regular league play.

Dick Lamoureux started the Flyers on their victory drive when he finished off a three-man passing play, which also included Johnny Young and Ed McDonald. Young got the second, with McDonald and Lamoureux making the play.

COACHES CHAMPS: Andrew "Shorts" Purcell appears quite satisfied with things in general—and well he should be. His University of Alberta Golden Bears walked off with the Western intercollegiate hockey championship last night when they downed Saskatchewan Huskies 6-2. Last night's victory was sufficient to give the Bears the championship. Previously they had defeated both Manitoba and Saskatchewan clubs twice.

Edmonton Juniors Cast to Sidelines

Canadians Drop 4-2 Decision To Native Sons

By Don Killips

Edmonton Bulletin Sports Writer

LETHBRIDGE, Mar. 1—Earl Robertson and his Edmonton Canadians were a sadly disappointed bunch Friday night as they prepared to head for home after dropping a 4-2 decision in the fifth and deciding game of the Alberta junior hockey finals to the Lethbridge Native Sons.

The Canadians didn't play disappointing hockey by any means. They outskated the Sons and had a great deal more of the territorial play, but the homesters were so desperate around their own goal it wasn't too often that George Rodzinyak, clever little Lethbridge net-minder, was called upon to make a sensational stop. He was too sharp for the Canadian snipers, except on two occasions.

THE LOWER-RAMSDEN-SIMPSON line was possibly the best attacking trio for the winners, but Orval Lavell, steady Lethbridge defenseman and captain of the team, was the biggest hazard the Canadians had to contend with. The sturdy defender was on the ice at least 45 minutes of the playing time, and every second he was out there he was a tower of strength.

Eddie Marchant and Bob Gray did an outstanding job on defence for the Canucks as they were almost turned into 60-minute men. Ron Matthews, rushing rearguard who received an injured knee in Thursday's battle here, was dressed for the game, but only saw a little action in the first period.

RON'S KNEE was still badly swollen before he skated onto the ice and his loss certainly affected the power of the Edmonton club. Canadians had a wide margin of play in the first period, although they only out-shot the homesters 11-10, but the Sons had the better chances around the net and seldom failed as they picked up a 3-1 lead in the frame.

Billy Gibson shot the Lethbridge sextet into a 1-0 lead before the game was a minute old when he picked up a rebound with goalie Johnny Sotiak sprawled on the ice and flipped it into the net. The goal came on the first rush the Sons made and their attack produced another one at 1:57. It was scored on an identical play, with Odie Lowe firing into an open net.

NORM KIRK and Harry Groves had the first real chance to put Edmonton on the scoreboard when Kirk fired and Groves took the rebound right in front, only to be outwitted by Rodzinyak. Groves and Simpson each served a roughing penalty midway through the game, but no damage was done to either side and then at the 16:54 mark the Native Sons rapped in their third straight to make it 3-0.

Bill Ramsden set up the play by feinting Gray to the side at the blue line and then passing out to Simpson, who was in the clear. Simpson skated right in and drew Sotiak clean out of the net to score.

LEO LUCCHINI cut the margin to 3-1 shortly before the period ended when he picked up a loose puck at the blue line and cut in from the wing to completely baffle Rodzinyak and slide it in behind the goalie.

Norm Kirk sliced the homesters' lead again early in the second when he took advantage of a lapse but no damage was done to poke a rolling puck past the net-minder.

That was the only scoring of the sandwich session, although the pace continued at lightning speed. Canadians out-shot the winners again in this frame, 7-4, but couldn't put the rubber into the cage more than once.

CANADIANS KEPT up the bitter fight for the most part of the third, but began to tire shortly after the midway mark.

The clincher for the Lethbridge

Calgary Snipers in Form

Stampeders Plaster 8-0 Count on Flyers

CALGARY, Mar. 1 (CP)—Flashing their smoothest form of the season, Calgary Stampeders ended their regular Western Canada Hockey League schedule in great style as they blanked Edmonton Flyers 8-0 at Victoria arena, Friday night. Stamps thrilled a crowd of 5,170 as they passed and skated the northern sextet completely out of the picture with each goal being the result of a well-executed play.

Russ Dertell, Calgary goalkeeper, turned back 21 attempts to hang up his fourth shutout of the season and clinch the Mrs. R. J. Scott Memorial Trophy awarded to the netminder with the most shutouts during league play. Sharing honors with Dertell was Tony Desmarais who scored three goals and assisted on two others.

DOUG CAIRNS, crafty Stamp centre, scored two goals while other Calgary markers went to Red Hunter, Dunc Grant and Art Michaluk. Bunny Dame led play-makers with three assists, while Wilder, Emery, Hunter and Michaluk got one each.

The clubs started quickly with rough tactics and lusty body-checks were handed out at both ends of the rink. Play was fairly rough, although only two penalties were handed out in the first period. Tempers flared in the second and Shquist and Young topped things off when they engaged in a mid-ice brawl and were banished for five minutes.

KRELLER, EMERY and Michaluk were penalized immediately following the fight, filling the cooler with five players. Billy Maher tangled with a spectator in the third and drew a ten minute misconduct penalty.

Play opened with thrilling end to end rushes and both goaltenders were called upon to make smart saves. At the 6:40 mark, Hunter drew first blood for the Stamps when his screen shot from just inside the blueline beat McAuley all the way. Midway through the canto, Desmarais scored his first goal on a pass from Wilder. At the 18 minute mark, with Calgary a man short, Hunter sent Grant into the clear and the cagy winger made no mistake as he skated in close and finished off the play in the net.

EDMONTON PLAYERS tried hard but were unable to penetrate came at the 13:22 mark when Vic Stasiuk made it 4-2. Gibson had made one attempt to score on the play, but Stasiuk made a diving save only to be caught on his back when Stasiuk picked up the rebound and dented the hemp.

From here the Lethbridge boys, who must be admired for the way in which they won the series—they dropped the first two in Edmonton and then won three straight here—will advance into the interprovincial playoffs for the Memorial Cup. They will now meet Trail, B. C. champions.

Another large crowd, in fact the largest of the season here, witnessed Friday night's thriller. Attendance was 5,140.

POLICE ARREST FATHER OF TWO ABANDONED CHICAGO YOUNGSTERS

RED CROSS PREPARES TO FEED HUNGRY ROMANIAN CHILDREN

Copyright, 1947, by Acme Newspictures, Inc.

ABANDONED AND HUNGRY—Donna Jean, eight months old, and Robert Isaacson, two and a half years, are two of four children found abandoned and hungry in their Chicago home. Their father was arrested and police were searching for their mother.

ON GUARD—British Tommies patrol the barbed-wire barricade before one of Jerusalem's security areas. This fortress embraces the King David Hotel, scene of a recent bombing, and all the main government and military bureaus. The constant threat of violence still hangs over the Holy Land.

ROCK TASTER—Jose Nancy of Maracaibo, Venezuela, doesn't make a meal of those rocks. He's looking for oil. After breaking the samples open with that little hammer, he tastes them to see if they're salty. Salt usually means no oil. Nancy works for a company that is looking for new wells in oil-rich Venezuela.

BULL'S EYE—King Farouk of Egypt is an interested spectator at the final matches of the Egyptian Army rifle shoot on the desert near Cairo. The man with the tally sheet is Ferik Attallah Pasha, Chief of Staff of the Egyptian Army.

"PLEASE, WILL YOU HELP US"—Humbly, these starving, ill-clad Romanian youngsters and their mother approach the depot in Moldavia where Red Cross clothing and medical supplies are being distributed. The Red Cross is buying $3,500,000 worth of food for the starving in that area.

HONEYMOON IN THE ALPS—Happy as any bride, the former Mary Churchill, daughter of the one-time British Prime Minister, now Mrs. Christopher Soames, smiles at her new husband on their arrival at Lenzerheide, Switzerland, on the honeymoon.

"THANK YOU!" says Ted Gatlin, St. Louis, Mo., news dealer. Ted has a standing offer to pay $25 to any of his customers if he forgets the "Thank You" when you buy a paper.

BRIEF—Shirley Modell has a new title. She just has been named "Miss Brevity of 1947" at Miami Beach, Fla. The contest sponsor even provided her with the trophy she holds.

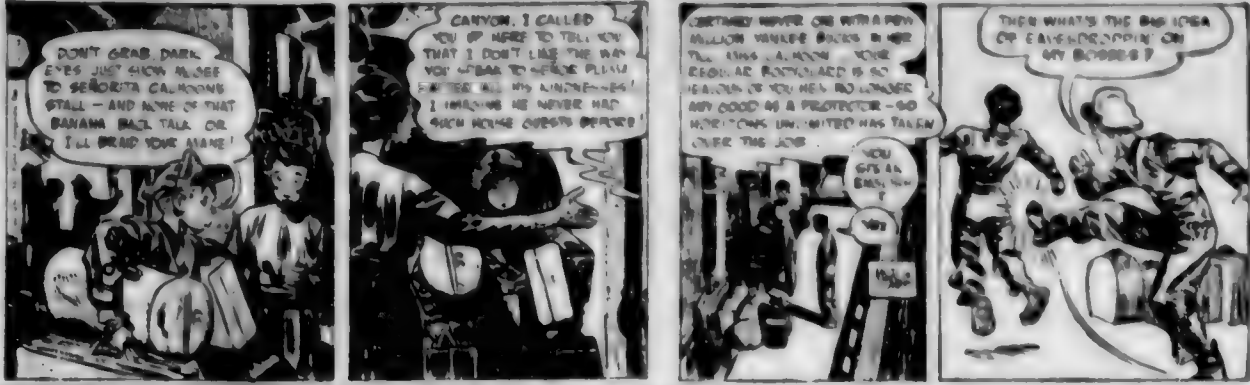

FOR GREATER AIR SAFETY—Ground Control Approach landing equipment, such as that in the trucks above, has helped Army and Navy fliers make 400,000 successful blind landings. Now it's getting tests at commercial fields—here at Chicago's municipal airport. It all looks good to Norman R. Smith (right) and Pat Dunne, airport executives.

GET GOING, LADIES—Women pickets are loaded into a police wagon at a Chicago manufacturing plant after violence broke out during a strike. No union represented the employees who were protesting the discharge of 23 workers. One woman worker was beaten and windows were broken during the fighting.

Major and Minor Notes

By John Oliver

With the appearance at McDougall United church next Friday at 8:30 p.m., of the Fisk Jubilee Singers, the current season's celebrity concert series, sponsored by the Women's Musical club, will come to an end. The series this year has been a complete success, in that the six regular subscription concerts were entirely sold out. In addition, there were two extra events, one of which was attended by a capacity audience, and the other by an audience smaller than it merits warranted. However, on that occasion, enthusiasm was stored for lack of numbers.

John Oliver

In the regular series the artists have been Nan Merriman, mezzo-soprano; Freda Trepel, pianist; Nino Martini, tenor; Alexander Uninsk, pianist; Nathan Milstein, violinist; and lastly the Fisk Singers. The first extra concert was given by the Don Cossack chorus, conducted by Serge Jaroff, and the second by Todd Duncan, Negro baritone. Mr. Duncan alone sang to empty seats. But those who went were rewarded by hearing one of the finest concertos in this city's history, and it is reasonably certain that if he ever returns, he will be greeted by a full house.

Just what is in store for music lovers in the celebrity series next season is not known. But it is known that Fred M. Gee, Winnipeg impresario, who is associated with the Women's Musical club in arranging the series, has completed his annual business trip to New York. This column is awaiting receipt of his customary letter, telling of his doings while in the vicinity of Broadway and 42nd St., and mentioning some of the artists he has heard, without of course, giving any indication of those he has booked. However, with the extension of celebrity concerts to other western points, arrangements may be more complicated than in previous years and final plans as to who may come, probably are not completed.

The following will appear with the Fisk Singers: Mrs. James A. Myers, director; Norton Evans, Rawn Spearman, Matthew Kennedy, Brooks Alexander and Samuel Floyd. The program is as follows: a group of spirituals, including Goin' to Ride in Chariot, I Writing My Hands, I Want to Be Ready, Nobody Knows de Trouble I've Seen, Every Time I Feel the Spirit, The Lord's Prayer, Mallothe, The Star, Rogers, Michieu Banjo, Creole folk melody; Kango, an African religious chant, Villalobos, Juba Dance, Dett; Sleeping Time and Hobby Horses, from "Genna's Infants"; Finto; Ombre Mai Fu; Handel's aria, Vaghiusini; Sennariz; Donaudy; a group of spirituals; Hear de Lamba a-Crying; My Soul Would Not Be Contented; Ezekiel, There's Meeting Here Tonight and I Can Tell the World. There will be two soloists from the group, Matthew Kennedy, who will play Rachmaninoff's Prelude No. 2, opus 23 and Rawn Spearman who will contribute de Falla's Asturias and El Pano Moruno.

Tomorrow, in the Strand theatre at 3:00 p.m., an innovation in musical events will take place. It will be a "Symphony for Students," played by the Edmonton Philharmonic orchestra, conducted by Abe Franklin, sponsored by the Women's Musical club as a community service and musical appreciation project, and administered by the Edmonton public school board. In presenting the concert the Women's Musical club hopes to create and cultivate an interest in symphonic music among high school students. If the venture proves a success, it is hoped to repeat it annually. For the first concert, the school board, which has accepted the responsibility for distributing the tickets, is confining the audience to high school students. Future concerts, if and when they take place, will extend the scope of attendance into the lower grades.

With high schools taking an interest in formation of orchestra and choral groups, the concert by the Philharmonic should encourage development of both standard of performance and appreciation of better music.

The program will include the overture to "William Tell," Rossini; the Andante from the "Clock" symphony, Haydn; To a Wild Rose, MacDowell; Jolly Fellows waltz, Volsted; Hungarian Dances Nos. 5 and 6, Brahms; Meadowland, Knipper; Flight of the Bumble Bee, Rimsky-Korsakov and Elgar's Pomp and Circumstance March No. 1. Frank Williams, baritone, will be the soloist, and accompanied by the orchestra, will sing Jerome Kern's song of the Mississippi, Of Man River, from "Show Boat," and Maria-Zucca's song I Love Life. R. S. Sheppard, superintendent of schools, will speak briefly and a commentary will be given by Vernon Barford.

Under the direction of Ray LeRoy Olson, students of the Dominion Institute of Music, will give two concerts in the near future. The first will take place at 8:00 p.m. March 23 and the second will be at the Strand theatre at 3:00 p.m., Sunday, April 27. Approximately 150 junior musicians will participate in the violin section and about 100 will be in the guitar section.

The programs will include works by Haydn, Mozart, Schubert and contemporary composers. Guest artists will be Crystal McDonald and Lillian Davis, soprano.

Next Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. in Convocation hall, the University Symphony orchestra will give its first concert, after a lapse of several years. Spurred by the enthusiasm of Ted Lindskog, first year dental student, has been revived. Rehearsals have been under way for several weeks, and lately have been intensified. Mr. Lindskog states that his players represent many sections of the province and that some of them are experienced orchestral men.

Included on the program will be Beethoven's Egmont overture; Star Dust, Carmichael; Unfinished Symphony, Schubert; March from "Scpio," Handel; Dance of the Jinks, Holman and other works.

The concert will be given by the University Symphony orchestra, who will sing the "Scpio," Handel; Dance of the Jinks, Holman; and other works.

Mrs. J. B. Carmichael, musical director of the Edmonton Civic Opera society stated today that preparations are well advanced for presentation of "The Prince of Pilsen" at the Strand theatre April 16 to 19 inclusive. "The chorus already has the first act well under control and work is well under way on the second. The whole company is enthusiastic about the show. I think it has more opportunities for chorus singing than any of our previous operas. That is what the chorus likes—lots of work. I am sure that Edmontonians will welcome the opportunity of hearing this splendid musical comedy, one of the most successful ever written on this side of the Atlantic."

Three more additions have been made to the cast of Richard Ball, Jr. has been cast in the role of Tom; Bill MacInn as Sergeant Brie and Boris Melnyk as Cook's Courier. Richard Ball, senior, one of the original members of the company is still doing duty. "He is one of my most dependable members, and it is good to have both father and son in the company," Mrs. Carmichael said. Orchestral rehearsals are under way. A special committee is at work on costumes. Many costumes ranging all the way from swanky Vassar College girls of New York, through London and Paris to Heidelberg, are called for and not only is the clothing department busy providing them, but the choristers are going to be kept busy changing fast enough to get back on stage.

Laurier Picard, who will play the role of a rich Cincinnati brewer, is reportedly having quite a time making the German dialect, but it is expected all will be well. One scene in which he tangles with a Pilsener fountain, giving out water instead of another favorite beverage, is a highlight of the show.

Mrs. D. S. McEachern, conductor of the Teen-Age Choral society, which will make its debut at the Masonic Temple in a two-night concert, March 11 and 12 reports that final preparations have been made for the event. Billie MacDonald has been added to the roster of assistants, and will take charge of the make-up. Martin Adamson is in charge of lighting. It is proposed to vary the lighting in keeping with the changing moods of the music.

Shirley Neher, talented Edmonton soprano, now at Vancouver, has won first place in a radio contest sponsored by a Portland, Ore. station. It is reported from the coast that she has been interviewed by Hollywood talent scouts with a view to a film assignment and is waiting word on the subject. Miss Neher, one of the city's most popular and talented singers has met with steady and increasing success at Vancouver.

STAMPS SELL FOR $20,000
TORONTO (CP)—A two-day auction sale of postage stamps here netted $20,000, with top price of $470 for a single 10-penny Canadian stamp. Besides the 33 dealers and collectors attending, 330 buyers submitted bids from all over Canada and the United States, and one enthusiast cabled his offer from South Africa.

Lone Fireman Busy As Two Fires Start
PENKIDGEE, Suff. England. (Reuters)—A fireman appeared at once to fireman Rainy Barnett. He was "one in the fire station at this quiet, English village when the station started to burn. Simultaneously the telephone rang—a house was on fire. Barnett couldn't call volunteers because the signal wasn't working, so he fired a gun. Everybody but one volunteer fireman thought it was someone out hunting. Barnett left the volunteer to "keep the fires from burning" and dashed out to answer the telephone call. When villagers finally got around to the fires Barnett and his helper had them both out.

New Devices Ease Work, Keep Cattle Contented
CHICAGO (AP)—Old boss and her pet Ferdinand never had it so good—and it's getting better all the time. The end of the war opened up a whole array of new gadgets to make their living conditions better.

On many a farm their dairy barn home is becoming electrically heated, ventilated, and cleaned. Their food is served to them electrically. They even can have an electrical drinking fountain to assure them fresh, temperature-controlled water regardless of weather. Of course, the real reason behind the new deal for dairy herds is to lighten the labor of the farmer. A new dairy barn, heated, powered by electricity, can clean the average barn in 10 to 15 minutes. By hand the same job would take 1 1/2 to two hours. United States government rural electrification experts estimate there still are about 2,500,000 rural homes in the United States without

Canadian Trade Level High; Credit Sales Hurt Balance

By John Bird

OTTAWA—An official release underscores the fact that in 1946 Canada's external trade reached the peak for any peace-time year. But the detailed breakdown supplied by the dominion bureau of statistics shows an imbalance. This in turn depends partly on world trade conditions, notably in Europe.

Canada, in fact, is for the time being financing her export trade with much of the world out of her own resources, and meeting the deficit in American trade out of her own resources, notably large but not diminishing balances of U. S. dollars built up under the Hyde Park agreement.

Report Good Surplus
The overall picture of Canada's trade is a good one. Total imports during 1946 amounted to $1,927,300,000 while total domestic exports were $2,312,200,000.

But many European customers, including Britain, are buying on Canadian credit. Since Britain alone has bought on credit from the U.S. there is no good prospect of Canada being able to use large sterling surpluses to pay off large dollar deficits until Britain's external trade is built up again to the point she can buy and sell on a cash basis. This in turn depends partly on world trade conditions, notably in Europe.

The forthcoming world trade talks at Geneva are of first rate importance in this connection. The dominion is firmly committed to support of free multilateral trading, and firmly against restrictive trading. But, unless world trade loosens up and British and European customers can get back onto a cash trading basis, there is danger—admitted in high official circles—that eventually Canada might, with the greatest reluctance, have to introduce some form of import control, in the face of that deficit in commodity trading with the United States.

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's external trade in 1946, with a value of $1,926,445,000, was higher than in any previous peace-time year in the country's history, the bureau of statistics reported Friday. It came within $1,000,000,000 of the all-time peak of $2,941,997,000 and was substantially higher than the previous peace-time peak, in 1920, of $2,635,083,990. Merchandise imports were higher than in any previous year while Canada did a better business in merchandise exports than in any peace-time year since 1920, the report showed.

The 1946 aggregate shows a decline of only 13 percent from 1945 when wartime shipments formed a large part of the total. December trade was valued at $396,237,000 an advance of 10.8 percent over December, 1945.

Ate Well as Donor, Never Gave Blood

NEW YORK (NANA)—Germany's "king of blood donors," a 33-year-old Wilhelm Wirth of Frankfurt-am-Main, has been arrested on charges of fraud and forgery, reports the newspaper Der Morgen of Berlin. By presenting forged certificates attesting he donated about 2 1/2 quarts of blood daily—a physical impossibility—the "king" had obtained extra food rations amounting to 436 pounds of bread, 408 pounds of meat, 110 pounds of butter, 100 pounds of cheese and 1,580 quarts of milk since last October. At the inquiry Wirth declared he needed for breakfast alone three to four pounds of sausage and one and one-third pounds of butter, with coffee, bread and the rest in proportion. Wirth's reduced to prison fare now. Extra judges have been named to deal with the 26,000 divorce applications filed by German women in Berlin courts since war's end, when divorces have exceeded marriages by about 4,000.

Police Nab Bad Cheque Artist

A chase Friday afternoon by Constable W. A. Malone of the city police force resulted in the capture of a youth who attempted to cash a forged cheque in the Bank of Montreal, 101 street and Jasper avenue.

The culprit, a juvenile, who claims to be from Vancouver, got panicky when officials of the bank started to investigate the cheque, which was made out for $480. He ran from the bank and was chased by the constable who finally caught up with him as he was dashing up the stairs of a Jasper avenue hotel.

He was not registered at the hotel, but had evidently run there for cover and a hiding place. The constable in chasing the youth, ran part of the way and then hailed a passing auto.

He appeared in the city police court Saturday and was waived to juvenile court.

Dr. Cross Outlines Program

Public Health Department Reports on Work for 1946

Supply of nurses and psychiatrists on the staffs of provincial mental institutions is low, Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health and welfare, said in the legislature Friday afternoon when reporting on work of his departments during continued debate on the Speech From the Throne.

THERE HAD BEEN 13 psychiatrists before the war, but there were only 11 at present, while the nursing staff is short 30 and the attendant staff about 25. The service is being provided by ward aids.

The number of patients in the Ponoka mental hospital, the mental institute at Oliver, auxiliary mental hospitals at Claresholm and Raymond and the provincial training school at Red Deer is 3,074 Dr. Cross reported. "Enough money was voted in the estimates last year to bring our staff up to strength," he said, "but so far this trained personnel has not been available. Cost of operating the institutions in wages and salaries alone has risen 113 per cent since 1939. This was due to the increased number of patients, the eight-hour day and rises in wages.

Activities of the tuberculosis division of the health department have resulted in cases being found sufficiently early in many cases to avoid sanatorium care. Last year 114,000 residents of the province received some form of diagnosis attention from the department, the doctor said. Death rate from Alberta in 1935 from tuberculosis was 42.2 per 100,000, but this had dropped to 31.4 in 1946, a decrease of 25 per cent. THE HEALTH minister disclosed that a number of former army

In Edmonton, Calgary NO MIXED DRINKING "A SHAME," SAYS MLA

"It's a shame that a man can't go into a beverage room in Calgary or Edmonton and have a glass of beer with his wife," L. D. Ward (Navy) told the legislative assembly in the course of his speech in the throne speech debate Friday afternoon.

He understood, the navy member said, that the restrictions on mixed drinking had been made because tavern keepers were not sure that they could cope with the problems thus created.

"Surely by this time they have learned how to deal with the problem of the person who doesn't know how to drink," Mr. Ward exclaimed.

He also dealt briefly with the discriminatory angle of the restrictions, in that in country points mixed drinking is permitted, but city people were deprived of the right.

Praise Heaped Upon Performers, Officials

"Graceful... beautiful... amazing... best thing I have ever seen." These brief quotations are but echoes of the superlatives heard from the audience which packed the Edmonton arena on Friday night to witness the second performance of the Glenora Figure Skating club's carnival.

SATURDAY NIGHT was the first time that the Glenora club had performed in the city. The club, which has been organized since 1934, has been successful in its efforts to bring the sport of figure skating to the city. The club's first performance was on Friday night, and it was a great success. The club's members were praised for their grace and skill, and the officials were praised for their organization and management.

As on the first evening, the performance was a great success. The club's members were praised for their grace and skill, and the officials were praised for their organization and management.

Under the leadership of the club's president, the club has been successful in its efforts to bring the sport of figure skating to the city. The club's first performance was on Friday night, and it was a great success. The club's members were praised for their grace and skill, and the officials were praised for their organization and management.

IT WOULD NOT be fair to estimate on the basis of the performance of the club's members, but it is a fair estimate that the club's members are of a high standard of skill and grace.

The club's members were praised for their grace and skill, and the officials were praised for their organization and management. Reservists Enjoy Winter Exercise Operation "Husky" Is Howling Success Exercise Husky—hardy offspring of Exercise Muskox of a year ago—is a howling success.

A howling success whether judged by approval of "Husky's" 161 officers and men, or by its emblem, a husky howling in silhouette against a full prairie moon.

From Grande Prairie to Brooks the 150-odd men on "Husky" are at Wainwright Army Camp this week, the first time Canada's Reserve Army has attempted a mid-winter outdoor training program.

"HUSKY" WAS BROUGHT into being by the 18th Infantry Brigade (Reserve), in order to prove to the troops themselves, as much as anyone, that men can train outdoors in below zero weather, that they can be comfortable in below zero weather, and that weapons of offence and defence can be operated in below zero weather — all provided suitable precautions are taken and common sense used.

The boys at Wainwright have tested equipment—and themselves—for two weeks now, and in the words of their acting commander, Maj. F. J. W. Fane, Mundare, commander of "B" Company, the Loyal Edmonton Regiment (Reserve) at Vegreville—"they love it, every bit of it".

THE TROOPS ON HUSKY are from three reserve units, the Loyal Edmonton, the Calgary Highlanders and the South Alberta Regiment. In addition, signals, medicals and RCEME (mechanical maintenance) troops are on hand, studying their specialist duties under winter conditions.

"Husky" personnel have been testing winter army clothing, skis, snowshoes, arms, goggles and footwear. In two weeks they have learned to use snowshoes, to ski and to be towed on skis behind a roaring, rocking "weasel"—something like a Bren gun carrier that takes to snow or water—and have fired live ammunition from Bren guns, Sten guns, standard rifles, 2-inch mortars, 3-inch mortars and a 6-pounder light field gun.

MEN ON HUSKY have found they can travel over snow on skis faster than over dry land in summer; that standard army sleeping bags are more than adequate for Alberta winter temperatures; that white winter outfits do not make a man invisible against snow; that moccasins and two or three pairs of wool socks are warmer than leather boots of any kind; and that care and common sense are a man's best friends out in the cold, white cold.

"This camp has convinced me that reserve army outdoor training should take up four weeks in a year," Maj. Fane says in summing up his opinion of the camp. "Two weeks in summer and another two weeks in winter. It should be arranged by the government so that men do not lose financially by attending four weeks of army camp a year."

AND I LIKE it better than summer camp," says Pte. Laurence Powell, 10731 104 street, who at 18 is the youngest lad on "Husky." "I like the mock battles and the skiing." Laurence is a younger brother of a famous RCAF "train-

Officers Elected By Kennel Club

Jack Young was named president of the Edmonton Kennel Club at the club's annual meeting Tuesday.

Others named to serve on the executive include first vice-president James Kinnison; second vice-president E. P. Tison, secretary-treasurer Mrs. M. D. Gardner and executive members Mrs. A. J. O'Brien, Richard Brown, Sydney Osip, Alvin Farmer, J. Cassin Jr. and Melvin Wells.

IT WAS ANNOUNCED that an amateur dog show will be held at the club's winter home, the Edmonton Kennel Club, on Tuesday, April 7, under auspices of the Capital Kennel Club. Other names named to the show are Jack Goff, Melvin Wells and Judge.

The English Cocker Spaniel club will hold a specialty show for all breeds on the 27th and 28th of March at the club's winter home, the Edmonton Kennel Club, on Tuesday, April 7, under auspices of the Capital Kennel Club.

On Tuesday, the show will be sponsored by the Edmonton Kennel Club and Judge will be Arthur Wright, Vancouver.

FIFTY PERCENT of net profits of the service Council for work in aid of the Canadian Red Cross Society will be turned over to the War Service Council for work in aid of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

Mrs. M. D. Gardner, at telephone 1537, or J. B. Grant at telephone 3309 are show secretaries.

"Husky" PO L. W. Powell, DFC, who was killed in action in June, 1943.

Unusual training to be featured at a winter camp are mock battles with active co-operation of the RCAF. Two such "shows" have been put on during the camp period, with spent cartridges splintered wreckage of targets and keen recollection telling of avid enthusiasm for this type of battle practice.

"HUSKY" GOES INTO the pages of Canadian Army history this Friday, when the camp disperses. The future of similar exercises then will go to military headquarters, where high officers are to study reports turned in at Wainwright by everyone from 18-year-old privates to brigadiers.

In the meantime Wainwright camp and its 100 square miles will slip back into white silence, a chilly echo of the roaring pace of war—while volunteers from Wainwright town who have manned a composite canteen every night of "Husky" will go back home and wait for their next chance to serve Canada's new crop of "citizen soldiers."

Sydney Howard's well-known comedy, "The Late Christopher Bean," will be produced in Edmonton on March 5, 6 and 7 by the Eastwood High School Drama Club. The play will be presented in the Eastwood auditorium. The play is directed by Henry Ward, assisted by Lella Olsen and Fave Mavor. Members of the cast are Vera Hudyma, Bill Linford, Elizabeth Clark, Beryl Ingram, Joyce Rendall, Grace Wetherston, Irene Winters, Dorothy Wasyluk, Joyce Holm, Bill Gordon, Harry Book, Jerry Grover and Leonard Davis.

U. of A. Mock Parliament

Lively Debate Marks Opening of "House"

Opening of the first parliamentary forum ever held on the university campus took place last night as a 42-member house, representing the 4,200 students at the university, held the first of two sittings in Convocation Hall. Students entered into the Ottawa-patterned parliamentary procedure with the gusto of seasoned House of Commons veterans, as debate and sarcasm were bandied back and forth from the 13-seat government side of the house, to the 29 students on the opposition half of the floor.

FORMALLY OPENED with the presentation of the mace, the session began immediately with reading of the Speech from the Throne by Deputy Speaker Ernest Nix, a theology student at the university.

A planned economy was the key note of the speech, which called for a general socialist form of government. The CCF ruling party called for a formation of a national planning commission and a national investment board to make maximum production, and full employment the chief concern of the government.

Socialization of banking, direction of investment, elimination of income taxation in the lower income brackets, with sharply graduated tax in the higher brackets; provision of low rental housing and inauguration of a new housing program, price controls on essentials of living, increased old age pensions to $50 per month for persons of 65 years of age and over; adjustments of prevailing freight rates; revision of the British North America Act, and full support of the United Nations Organization, were advocated by the throne speaker.

OPPOSITION CHIEF Edgar Gerhart, leader of the Social Credit party, stated in the debate following the speech, that socialism is incompatible with freedom, that the Canadian palate does not relish a dish of red pepper, and that a planned freedom is not freedom. Party leaders Richard Robinson of the Liberal group, and Willard Burke, Progressive Conservative, also stated that under the CCF "planned security" freedom as now possessed by Canadians would not exist.

Premier Hal Bronson replied that Albertans are disgusted with their government, adding that the ideas of the opposition were miserable. He stated that private enterprise would only succeed in bringing another depression to Canada.

Labor Progressive Whip James Kitchin was "glad to see the progressiveness of the government plans," but suggested that perhaps they were not entirely practical. However, he offered the support of the two LPP members to the CCF government. The coalition offer was rejected by Premier Bronson.

NEXT AND FINAL sitting of the mock parliament will take place in Convocation Hall on Friday, March 7, when debate on the throne speech will be continued and a vote of confidence in the government taken.

Membership in the house is fairly evenly divided except for the two LPP representatives, with the governing CCF group holding 13 seats, opposition Social Credit party 10, Liberals, 9, and Progressive Conservatives, 8.

Party leaders are Hal Bronson, CCF; Edgar Gerhart, Social Credit; Richard Robinson, Liberal; Willard Burke, Progressive Conservative; and Finlay MacKenzie, LPP. CCF cabinet consists of premier and minister of trade and commerce, Hal Bronson; minister of finance and state, Kim Ross; minister of agriculture and mines and resources, B. J. Bowen; minister of justice, Phyllis Volin; minister in charge of veterans affairs, Edward Kemp; minister of labor and public works, Jean Dixon; and minister without portfolio, Don Smiley.

Surprise feature of the opening was the reading of Richard Robinson's Liberal address in French, to the dismay of members and the two house stenographers. Mr. Robinson later reviewed his speech in English, however, since no interpreters had been provided for the session.

It was reported that Edgar Gerhart, Social Credit party head, attended the session although ill from the influenza epidemic now prevalent on the campus.

Cut in Working Hours, Higher Wages Advocated

Legal reduction in the maximum hours of work for labor in Alberta, would mean that workers in unorganized industries with small payrolls would receive the same treatment as workers in the more favored, larger industries, L. D. Ward (Navy) told the legislative assembly during the throne speech debate Friday afternoon.

HE ALSO URGED an upward revision in wage rates to compensate labor for the shorter hours, thus put into effect.

I was necessary for Canada to import five million pounds of butter from New Zealand, the reason being supplied with margarine since he was in the navy and wanted that it cooked, tasted and seemed like butter, besides being the national value of butter. He suggested the production of margarine be permitted.

A general feeling exists the butter and the recent price increases regarding the marketing of butter as a result of the war, was established.

Govt. May Act On Horse Race

Prompt attention will be given by the Alberta government to any protest against the holding of a 30-mile horse race in southern Alberta this spring. Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C. told J. Percy Page (Ind. Edmonton) in the Legislature Friday.

It is understood that the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is protesting holding of the race as the result of six animals either dying, or having to be destroyed, after a similar event held last year.

4 Petroleum, Gas Leases Are Filed

Four petroleum and natural gas reservations, were issued during the week ended Feb. 27, according to the department of lands and mines. They are all in the area around Consort and Hemanuka, and are for an area of more than 500,000 acres. Conrad Exploration Company took two of them and Christopher Cairns and John Galloway the other two.

Reservations cancelled included more than 75,000 acres held in the name of the Imperial Oil Ltd. in Buffalo Park area and 185,949 acres in the south of the province held by the Shell Oil Company of Canada Ltd.

FEEDS THE KITTY: Despite the name "Lily Belle" he's a big tomcat now and maybe it's undignified to wear a dress and take his milk from a dolls nursing bottle, but that's the way he learned to drink it as a motherless kitten. And that's the way he prefers it now as his 4-year-old mistress, Dorothy Penney, of Shawnee, Okla., humors the big kitty.

To Be Visible in Brazil

Plan Sun Spot Study During May 20 Eclipse

By Paul F. Ellis

NEW YORK, March 1. (BUP)—Astronomers are packing their bags these days in preparation for a trip to Brazil and a new study of sun spots.

It will be one of their best opportunities in recent years and the best for some years to come.

THIS IS BECAUSE the sun will be totally eclipsed on May 20 for a period of three minutes and 51 seconds. That will be the longest such period until 1955, and astronomers mean to make the best of it.

The study of sun spots will be the big order. In recent months, these enormous clouds of gas, which sometimes cover great portions of the sun's surface, have reached their peak activity.

Every so often the phenomena affects radio and telegraphic communication. For some reason, the man-made communication signals go haywire. Some scientists even blame certain weather conditions, such as hurricanes and other storms, on these sun spots. Others go so far as to predict that some day when man on earth will be able to make long range weather forecasts by learning new knowledge of sun spots.

DURING AN ECLIPSE of the sun, the corona may be seen in excellent display. It is there, where new discoveries in the behavior of the sun may be found. The May 20 eclipse will not be visible in the United States, or any other country in the Northern hemisphere. The total phase will start at sunrise southeast of the Juan Fernandez islands off the coast of Chile. Then the dark path will sweep across the Andes, Northern Argentina, southern Paraguay and northeastward across the interior of Brazil.

AT SALVADOR, Brazil, the path sweeps across the Atlantic and then to Liberia. In Africa, it continues along the south coast of the equatorial bulge and leaves the earth at sunset south of Nairobi, Kenya.

The American scientists, including a combined team representing the National Geographic Society and the Army, plan to set up their instruments in Brazil, in the vicinity of Bocayuva, about 400 miles north of Rio de Janeiro. That section of path of totality will be about 100 miles wide.

These scientists will work at top speed during those three minutes and 51 seconds. They will take hundreds of photographs and return with them to make more detailed study—and they hope to learn new secrets of sun spots.

RED CROSS Hospital Care ON CANADA'S FRONTIER

A CANADIAN LUMBERMAN'S AXE SLIPS . . . the razor edge bites deep into his leg. Frantically he tries to staunch the blood spurting from a severed artery. His companions apply a tourniquet and decide to carry the gravely wounded man to the Red Cross Outpost Hospital ten miles away.

A maddening race against death! The snow slows them down, but at last . . . the Red Cross Outpost! Quickly, efficiently, the Red Cross nurse goes to work. An hour later, the man is resting between sheets . . . warm, drowsy and knowing he will live.

This is just one of the many ways Red Cross Outpost Hospitals serve Canadians in remote and isolated sections of the Dominion. Working in their hospitals and on rounds through the countryside, Red Cross Nurses bring medical care to places that would normally go without.

It's a vital work . . . a work that saves countless Canadian lives every year. The Red Cross needs money to keep up this good work. Won't you help to bring medical care to a fellow-Canadian on the frontier?

Voyage Made Easy for Canuck Bride Going Down Under

By Leone Kennedy

SYDNEY, Australia, March 1.—(CP)—When the average Canadian girl decides to travel she may choose any method from hitchhiking to riding in a first-class railway coach. But if she decides to go to Australia as a war bride or fiancée, she is guaranteed a smooth voyage with plenty of concessions under the auspices of the Australian government.

THE COMMONWEALTH government reasons that if it cannot do anything about the distance from Canada to Australia—more than three weeks' sailing time—it can do much to ease travel difficulties for Canadian war brides.

As soon as a Canadian girl decides to pack her trunk and head for "down under" the Australian Repatriation Commission swings into action and looks after her all the way as though she were a favorite child.

The mind behind the organization apparently works on the theory that the Canadian bride may spend the rest of her life in Australia and that a favorable first impression is important.

Before she leaves Canada, the bride is handed a circular with full details concerning her mode of travel and what she can take into Australia through the customs in the way of personal belongings.

She is also given first-class railway accommodation across the Dominion to the embarkation point where she is met by repatriation officials. While other passengers fret over their luggage problems, the bride simply walks on the ship—her luggage handled by her ubiquitous guardians.

During the war the Australian government was hard-pressed to find suitable shipping accommodation but with gradual return of normal conditions, the Canadians travelled under more elaborate circumstances.

A RECENT group which crossed the Pacific in the Australian ship, Wanganella, was given first-class accommodation—a starting concession considering that the first class quarters were so crowded that many influential people, including a retired British admiral, were forced to travel second class.

An even greater concession was extended to the Canadian group when it arrived at the customs barrier in Sydney, New South Wales. The Australians have a stringent customs inspection but the Canadians were permitted to leave the dock with their baggage unchecked. The only requirement was a signed baggage declaration.

As a final touch, each Canadian girl received a letter and an official handbook of Australia several days after her arrival. The letter was mimeographed, the signatures typed, but the sentiment expressed was as friendly and warm as if the circular had been hand-written. It indicated pleasure at the bride's arrival and concluded with the simple remark: "May your future life in Australia be a succession of happy days."

Collects Royal Thank-you Notes

HALIFAX, (CP)—A thank-you letter from the Duke and Duchess of Windsor was received by Mrs. Aida Murray Findlay of Halifax to be added to an impressive collection of letters from other members of the royal family. The letters are in answer to greetings extended on anniversary occasions, and include communications from the late King George V, Queen Mary, the late Duke of Kent, and others.

This correspondence is a sequel to an event in 1946 when her brother, John (Sonny) Mulroney, rescued King George from drowning in Halifax harbor. His Majesty, then the Duke of York, was serving as a midshipman in the Royal Navy.

When the present Duke of Windsor was here in 1919, he had special instructions from his father to look up the rescuer and an invitation was extended to the family to meet the Prince for tea at Government House.

When "Sonny" Mulroney died in 1926 his family received a personal letter of sympathy from Buckingham Palace.

The utter rightness of HARRIS TWEED

Where regard is paid to the right clothes for outdoor occasions, HARRIS TWEED is an indispensable choice. The absolute finality derives from the fine traditions of the islanders in the Outer Hebrides who wear Harris Tweed by habit.

To Spare Heligoland; Let Islanders Back
NEW YORK (NANA) — The British government has abandoned their plan to use the tiny island of Heligoland as a base for the Navy and will allow the 2,000 inhabitants to return. Present plans call for demolishing the fortifications on the island, following their use in two wars, by the German navy. The Frisian-speaking natives, removed to the mainland last year, were allowed to resume their fishing operations from the island's natural harbor, according to reliable sources. Heligoland, acquired by Britain in 1914, is a small island in the North Sea, about 100 miles from the German coast. It was famous in Nordic mythology.

Families Share Home Tragedies

It is a curious thing that children seldom consider the well-being of their parents when they marry. When John, who has fallen for a pretty little virago without a thimbleful of brains, or for a girl who does not belong to his class and with whom he has not a single thing in common, or when Evelina is sure that a good-for-nothing, dissipated loafer is her Dream Man, they feel that they have a perfect right to marry them regardless of how it will affect their fathers and mothers.

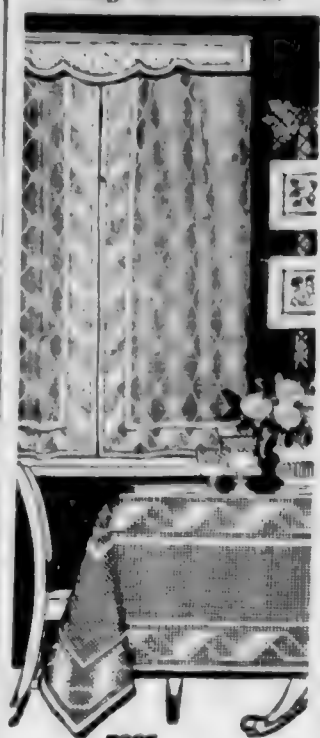

They justify themselves in doing this by telling their parents that it is none of their affair and they have no right to interfere. "I am the one who is marrying the girl," says John. "Not you. If I am making a mistake, I am the one who will have to pay for it. For I will have to live with her and put up with her nerves and temper and her stupidity, not you."

"PERHAPS," says the girl, "I may be ruining my life as you say, by marrying a playboy who drinks too much and has never settled down to making a living, but it is my life and I have a right to do with it what I please. I am the one who will have to suffer if my marriage turns out a failure. It's not your funeral!"

Of course, in this land of the free and home of divorce, John and Evelina are within their rights when they claim the privilege of picking their mates, for parents and children do not always have the same tastes in husbands and wives. The suitable wife that Mama might select for John might be one that he wouldn't have on a bet, while the safe husband that Papa chose for Evelina might bore her to tears.

BUT, GRANTING that parents should keep hands off of their children's marriages as far as possible.

Minute Make-Ups

Here's a quick way to freshen up a wilted makeup. Dampen cotton with skin freshener, press it all over your face. This absorbs oily shine. Blot dry with a tissue, then apply a bit of fresh face powder. A touch of dry rouge, an accent with your lipstick—and there you are!

The Book of Knowledge

(Department: Things to Make and Do)

This and the following articles are taken from the Book of Knowledge and can be clipped for saving in a reference book.

AN ELEPHANT MADE OF WALNUTS

The little elephant shown in the picture was put together from a picture of a black walnut, and his head of a smaller one (about half as large). His tusks are simply toothpicks. His neck consists of a little rounded stick. His trunk, ears, legs and tail are made of pipe cleaners, which you may buy at any tobacco shop. If father smokes a pipe, he will undoubtedly have a supply of these pipe cleaners on hand.

Figure 1 shows you how the little fellow is put together. With a boring tool, such as a gimlet, you make small holes in the large walnut for the four legs and the tail; each hole is barely wide enough to permit the wire of the pipe cleaner to pass through it.

With a pair of scissors, cut five pieces from a pipe cleaner, each piece an inch long. Four of these are for the legs, one for the tail. Glue the ends of all these pieces and insert them in their holes. The toes are made by tucking out the cotton material at the end of the legs. The tail should be set at a saucy angle.

Now prepare the elephant's head by making a small hole for the trunk and four holes for the ears (two for each) at the places indicated in Figure 2. As before, each of these holes is wide enough to allow the wire of a pipe cleaner to be inserted. The elephant's trunk consists of two inches of pipe cleaner, one end of this glued and inserted in its hole. Each ear consists of an inch of pipe cleaner. Each end is glued and then inserted in a hole (see Figures 1 and 2).

The tusks consist of two little pieces of wood, each one-half inch long, cut from rounded toothpicks. The tusks are fitted into two holes cut under the trunk. The ends that are inserted must be glued before insertion.

The eyes are made of two little glass-headed pins, stuck into the elephant's head at the points indicated. To give a realistic effect, the eyes may be painted white. When the white paint has quite dried, a little dab of black paint may be placed in the middle of each eye. This added touch will produce a very good effect.

Figure 2 shows you how the little fellow is put together. With a boring tool, such as a gimlet, you make small holes in the large walnut for the four legs and the tail; each hole is barely wide enough to permit the wire of the pipe cleaner to pass through it.

The last step is to join the head to the body. The neck is a little cylindrical piece of wood half an inch long, with a diameter of a quarter of an inch. Holes for the neck are made in the body and the head; these holes are just wide enough so that the little cylinder of wood may be inserted. Now glue one half of the neck and place this half in the head. When the glue has set, put glue on the other half, which will be protruding from the head, and place this in the elephant's body. When this too has set, the elephant is complete.

If you wish, you may make a stand for your little elephant by cutting out a block of wood, two inches square and one-eighth of an inch thick (the wood of an old cigar box will do for this purpose). To mount the elephant, glue the ends of the legs to the stand. Our elephant will now appear to the best possible advantage.

MONDAY:—The Boy Whom France Forgot.

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

There is little question but that babies, even tiny ones, have a very definite way of indicating when they do not want to eat. They thrust the nipple out with their tongues. They grow red in the face as they resist taking it in their mouths again. They gaggle the milk if it goes in their mouths and make wry faces. The older child closes his mouth, jerks his head aside, and spits out the food.

Mrs. J. M. writes that her 16-month-old son refuses to eat any of the coarser foods. For the last two weeks he has refused everything but the bottle.

"Should he be taken off the bottle?" she writes. "How can I handle him when he closes his mouth tightly? If I manage to get any food in he spits it out.

"He has four feedings a day beginning with a bottle at 5:30 a.m. He has 12 teeth and more due. If his actions are due to teeth I won't worry any more. He drinks plenty of water and orange juice but not one sip of milk.

"He weighs 26 pounds, speaks clearly, imitates the sounds of all kinds of animals. Once in a while after he has refused to eat I've given him a fruit candy tablet and he'll crack it with his teeth and chew it well."

The boy is having too many meals. Hold him off until 6:30 or 7 a.m., and then offer his breakfast without filling him up with that early bottle of milk. Don't offer milk at all except in milk foods and at the end of his meal. If he won't drink it, don't force it. If he must have a bottle, give him one-half as much as formerly. You can't help him develop a good appetite for his solid food if you satisfy his appetite with milk.

Give him fruit juices and vitamin D in mid morning. Then his lunch of meat and vegetables (the junior foods he has heretofore spurned), a milk pudding for dessert and half a portion of milk. At night offer custard, fruit and milk, or cottage cheese, fruit and milk, and give him a full portion of milk for bedtime. Cutting down on the milk and number of meals will, I feel sure, make him far more interested in the other foods you offer.

Our leaflet on "Tasty Milk Foods," suggests ways of getting more milk into the solid foods thus leaving less to be offered by bottle or cup. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with this request for leaflet No. 25 to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

The team of four consisting of E. Jay Becker and Mrs. Helen Sobel of New York, Sidney Sidor and Charles H. Goren of Philadelphia, returned recently from a trip to South America. They flew down to Sao Paulo, Brazil, spent eight days there, then eight days in Rio de Janeiro.

They played four 36-board matches against four teams in Sao Paulo and five 20-board matches against five teams in Rio. They won every match. Their smallest win was 600 points, while one match was won by 4500 points. Today's hand was the one that gave them a swing. Both teams arrived at three to trump with the North-South cards, and three to trump could not be detected. South was bound to make three spades, four hearts, the ace of clubs and a diamond trick.

Why Grow Old?

It seems much wiser to keep the mechanics which produce beauty in the background. Let the fascinating face be only the lovely results. Don't you think so?

There has been much difference of opinion concerning the length of time needed to gain the best results from creaming. Some say that the skin receives as much benefit from 15 minutes' application as from eight hours. I do not believe this is true.

Whether you leave cream on your face all night depends a lot on your husband's sleeping habits. If he falls asleep while you read that last chapter, and you are the one to turn the lights off, then of course, you can apply cream just before going to sleep and he will be none the wiser. If this is impossible, then you will have to find a few hours during the day when you can allow skin lubrication to sink in.

If this is impractical, or if you wish to give your skin an extra measure of softening, you should use one of the night oils now available. Some of them virtually disappear into the skin, leaving only a little sheen when you wipe off the excess after 15 or 20 minutes.

This is a problem every woman with dry skin must work out some way because it is essential in maintaining a youthful appearance.

If you wish to have my leaflet No. 47 "Your Outer Coating," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman, in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

double three no trump. Mrs. Sobel (East) elected to go to four clubs, which South doubled.

If South had opened the ace of clubs and followed with the small club, he would have defeated the contract. But when his opening lead of the spade ace held, he made the mistake of shifting to a heart.

Then Mrs. Sobel had no trouble at all in cross-ruffing the hand out for the needed 10 tricks.

PAYING A DEBT

A CERTAIN man who lives in one of the big houses near the Teenie Weenie village has been puzzled lately by happenings around his home. First, he noticed that a piece had been sawed from a cake of soap in his bathroom. There were saw marks on the soap and there was a tiny heap of soap dust where the piece had been sawed off. The man thought that mighty peculiar, but what happened to his shoes was even more puzzling.

One morning the man carried a pair of shoes out onto the back porch, expecting to polish them. When he came home from work that night he found his shoes beautifully polished. He noticed that small spots of the polish on the porch floor had the appearance of very small footprints. He picked up one of the shoes and examined it carefully. He noticed what appeared to be tiny fingerprints. "Of course," he said to himself, "they are too small for fingerprints. No one has hands that small." However, they were finger marks—Teenie Weenie finger marks—and this is how they happened to be there on the man's shoes.

Some time ago the Teenie Weenies were entirely out of soap and so they went to the man's house while he was away and cut off a small piece with their tiny crosscut saw. The Teenie Weenies only wanted to borrow the bit of soap, but they couldn't get soap to repay the man. Then they decided to even up the matter in some other way. The little people kept a close watch on the place for a chance to repay their debt and finally the Sailor, who was watching the house from behind a bush near by, saw the man leave his shoes and polish on the porch. When he went off to work the Sailor reported the matter to the Teenie Weenies, who decided they could pay for the borrowed soap by polishing the shoes.

The little folk carried Teenie Weenie ladders, brooms and a mop to the porch. They swept off the dust from the shoes with the Teenie Weenie brooms and the mop was used for a swab to rub on the polish. The Duncie insisted on dabbing on the polish and he got almost as much of the blacking on himself as he did on the shoes. The other Teenie Weenies rubbed the shoes with tiny rags and after several hours of hard work they had polished the shoes until they shone like mirrors. Of course the little people had very dirty hands when they were through with the work and the Duncie had to have a regular bath, but two thimbles of hot water and a piece of soap not much bigger than a large grain of coffee made the entire tribe fresh and clean.
